8,145-Pound Elephant Falls Through Truck In Crash, Crushes Man

DALLAS, May 22 (AP)—A four-ton elephant landed on a 30-year-old man and crushed him to death when a trailer-truck jumped a ditch and overturned north of here today.

Norman E. Joseph of Newark, N. J., was killed. The truck driver, W. C. Hendricks, 36, of Atlanta, Ga., was injured.

The other fatality was Queenie, an 8,145-pound elephant. Hendricks said both the truck and Queenie were owned by T. J. Tidwell shows and carnival of Big Spring, Tex.

Hendricks said the truck overturned after the brakes failed.

Sheriff's Deputy H. G. Vayette said Joseph was riding in the cab with Hendricks and jumped out when he saw they were going to turn over. "He landed in the path of the trailer and the elephant broke through the siding and landed right on top of him," Vayette said.

Mishap In Union Station Injures 12 At Washington

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Twelve persons were injured, none seriously, and several others shaken up today when an 11-car section of a passenger train banged into a five-car section at Union Station.

The fourth, fifth and sixth cars of the moving section were derailed, tearing up about 100 feet of track. A block at the end of the track prevented the stationary section from being propelled across the concrete passenger ramp and into the station concourse by the impact. Union Station is just a few blocks from the national Capitol.

The two sections were being combined to form the Baltimore and Ohio train scheduled to leave for Chicago and Detroit at 5:40 p.m. EDT.

Children Tossed About
A group of school children in the second car from the end in the stationary section were tossed about like tennis, one witness said.

The injured included two 13-year-old boys in the car. David Ball and Tom Moore, both of Bellevue, Ohio. The other injured were railroad employees.

The youths and six other eighth-graders from the Immaculate Conception School in Bellevue shared the car with 38 youngsters and two Roman Catholic nuns from St. Hedwig's in Milwaukee.

Sister Isadore of St. Hedwig's said that when the crash came the youngsters were knocked in all directions.

Dining Car Littered
Nine of the railroad workers were in a dining car just ahead. The impact scrambled the workers and littered the car with coffee, sugar, broken glass and cutlery.

This was the most serious mishap at Union Station since January 1953, when a passenger train's brakes failed to work and the express plowed through the concourse with devastating damage to station fixtures and the engine of the train crashed through the concrete into the basement. Fifty-one persons were treated at the hospital, but only seven were hurt seriously.

Scheele Awaits Experts' Advice

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Government health authorities maintained an attitude of caution today as they awaited fresh advice which could determine how soon the nation's antipolio vaccination campaign gets started again.

Specialists in the field confer tomorrow on the findings of a team of experts who have inspected the manufacturing and testing processes of vaccine producers.

Their conclusions possibly could result in still tighter safety standards for the vaccine already given to nearly six million youngsters. Any move in this direction would have a delaying effect on the drive to inoculate children of the most susceptible ages this year.

Embargo In Effect
The vaccination campaign, which has been on and off, slowed down again last week when the Public Health Service temporarily stopped clearing vaccine already produced.

Rep. Scott (R-Pa.) told a TV-radio audience — NBC — "The American Forum"—today the vaccine was released about two months earlier than might have been justified because of "a publicity stunt."

Without identifying the person, Scott said "an advertising man" decided "the birthday of the late President Roosevelt was a fine day to announce the Salk vaccine" because of Roosevelt's work in the polio campaign. The congressman obviously meant the vaccine was released on the anniversary of Roosevelt's death, April 12.

At that time, Scott said, "There were not ample supplies in this country of vaccine." This jumping the gun by two months, he said, "caused one heck of a mess ever since for everybody."

Salk Unable To Attend
Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele confirmed late yesterday that a group of experts, including manufacturers' technicians, would review findings of the inspectors at a meeting here tomorrow.

But Scheele, who has emphasized a better-safe-than-sorry approach, specified in his announcement that the group's recommendations will be "advisory." "He gave no indication when his own decision on a next step would be announced, saying only it 'will be made as soon as possible.'"

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, will miss tomorrow's session. A Health Service spokesman said the University of Pittsburgh scientist sent word it would be "impossible" for him to be here. Salk has sat in on previous discussions of testing and manufacturing problems.

Red Shelling Of Boats Called Wanton Murder

MUNSAN, Korea, May 22 (AP)—The U.N. Command today again accused the Communists of "wanton murder" in the May 10 shelling of South Korean fishing boats off the coast of North Korea.

Maj. Gen. Harland C. Parks, senior U.N. member of the Military Armistice Commission, rejected a Communist claim the boats were "an armed armada" disguised as fishing boats. He told the Communists the boats were "defenseless."

Five boats were sunk, six South Koreans were killed and nine were wounded. Three other boats and 15 men are missing.

Graham Preaches To Royal Family, Lunches With Queen

WINDSOR, England, May 22 (AP)—U.S. evangelist Billy Graham preached to Queen Elizabeth today in a royal chapel. The Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret also heard the American minister.

Later Graham and his wife lunched with the Queen.

Graham, obviously affected by the singular honor, told reporters afterward: "I can only say it was a great privilege to be at Windsor today and that the Queen was very charming and gracious to us."

The sermon to the royal family was a surprise climax to the handsome evangelist's seven-week Scotland-England crusade, which reaped more than 77,000 "Decisions for Christ." The fact that the 36-year-old North Carolina preacher was invited to conduct

ASKS FUND HIKE—Director Donald Montgomery of the United Auto Workers' Washington office, leaves a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing after urging a hike in the amount requested by President Eisenhower for the free polio vaccination program. The President asked for $28,000,000, but Montgomery thought $6,000,000 more was necessary.

George Predicts Curbs On Ike's Asian Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Chairman George (D-Ga.) said today the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is not likely to give President Eisenhower a "blank check" to administer a 200-million-dollar Asian aid fund.

George told reporters he thinks the committee will approve sometime this week the President's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program without material reductions. But he said it is likely to affix some "general limitations" on a special presidential fund designed to help finance regional economic development for friendly nations in Asia.

Bowles To Testify
The committee will hear Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India, in a public session tomorrow before resuming its closed door work on the bill.

George said the committee knows little about the uses to which the proposed 200-million-dollar fund might be put, particularly since Asian nations made it clear at a recent conference they want assistance on a country-by-country basis and not in a regional pool.

Hensel Suggests Loans
He said H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, had suggested the fund might be used to make loans to Far Eastern countries, rather than outright aid grants. George said the committee might stipulate a percentage of the money be used in this way.

George said he thinks the committee will strike out of the bill an administration sponsored provision which would permit the discharge without regard to Civil Service rules of holdover officials from the expiring Foreign Operations Administration who make $5,000 a year or more.

No Bottles, Guests To Sweep Up Here

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP)—"We won't have to sweep up any bottles after this dinner," a waitress said looking over a large dinner crowd at a local hotel last night.

Overhearing her, one of the guests added: "And you won't have to sweep up any guests, either."

The guest was one of more than 500 persons attending the 10th annual dinner of Alcoholics Anonymous of Baltimore. Almost 300 gallons of coffee was consumed during the evening.

Boat's Wash Capsizes Small Craft; 4 Drown

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 22 (AP)—Three boys and a 42-year-old man drowned in the Ohio River today when their boat capsized in the wake of a tow-boat.

They were listed as David Lowe, 16; his brother, Wesley, 10; their uncle, Raymond Posey; and William Anderson, 14, all of Jeffersonville, Ind.

Two bodies were recovered some four hours after the drowning but their identities had not been established early tonight.

Chinese Reds Rushing Work On Air Bases

30,000 Reported Laboring On Field West Of Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa, May 22 (AP)—The Chinese Reds were reported today to be working 30,000 laborers around the clock to add another air base to their growing ring of jet fields within striking distance of Formosa.

Tatao News Agency said the base was at Changting, 280 miles west of Formosa. Russian experts were reported directing the work on the huge base, which will be capable of handling every type of plane.

Smaller Fields Completed

Tatao said the Communists also have finished a smaller jet airfield at Kienow, 220 miles northwest of Formosa. Tatao, which claims mainland underground contacts, said no jets had yet been reported based at Kienow.

By Tatao's account, the base at Changting would be similar to the one recently finished at Lukiao, 220 miles north of Formosa. Lukiao is reputed to be the largest air base in all Red China.

To protect it from air attack, the Changting base will have underground hangars, fuel storage and repair shops, the agency reported.

All civilians within one mile of the limits of Changting air base were reported ordered to move out. Communist troops guard the base itself.

Easy Range Of Quemoy

Changting is 150 miles northwest of the Nationalist offshore island of Quemoy. This would put Red planes within easy range of this largest and most important of the Nationalist islands off the Red mainland.

Kienow also is within range of the second major Nationalist offshore island holding—the Matsus, 120 miles northwest of Formosa. Kienow is 120 miles west of the Matsus.

The Communists also have been reported finishing work on air strips at Foochow, only 40 miles from the Matsus.

Demos To Seek Social Security Liberalization

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—House Democratic leaders have decided on a surprise push to provide many millions of dollars in additional social security benefits for women and disabled persons. The most important point in the program, to be launched soon in the House Ways and Means Committee, would lower the age at which women become eligible for benefits, from 65 to either 60 or 62.

This not only would enable millions of working women to retire earlier, but it also would increase initial benefits 50 per cent for couples where the husband retires at 65 with a dependent wife several years younger.

The second feature of the new move to further liberalize social security would provide immediate monthly payments when a worker becomes disabled. He has to wait until he reaches retirement age at 65 to benefit from the program now.

Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee are working out details of these and other possible changes, and hope to bring them to the House floor in June. Until recently there had been virtually no talk of any social security legislation at this session of Congress.

Offense Against Hoa Hao Forces Planned By Diem

SAIGON, South Viet-Nam, May 22 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, seeking to unite South Viet Nam against the Communist Vietminh before it is too late, is preparing a massive offensive against hostile elements of the Hoa Hao religious sect.

Diem's new blow against feudal armies which divide and weaken this nation may fall within a matter of days.

French Forces Withdrawn

Chief of Staff Gen. Le Van Ty has massed a formidable striking force, including regiments of ex-Emperor Bao Dai's former imperial guard, in west Viet Nam, which the Hoa Hao controls. French military and naval forces in the area have been withdrawn hastily and the Hoa Hao armies are throwing up new defenses.

"There must be a day of reckoning," said a spokesman for the anti-Communist Premier. "In the fight against communism which menaces all our lives, special interests, private armies and feudal domains must be abolished. It is up to the Hoa Hao to decide whether to be unselfish and patriotic or callously indifferent to the peril of the people."

Binh Xuyen Smashed

The planned offensive against the Hoa Hao would follow hard on the heels of the national army's defeat of the Binh Xuyen society, a powerful and wealthy band of former pirates who also refused to give up their private interests and chose instead to meet the government in all-out combat.

Magazine Reports U. S. Officials Shocked By Russia's Air Might

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Aviation Week said today that Russia has displayed over Moscow aircraft so advanced and so numerous it has shocked "even the top level and the most knowledgeable military aviation leaders in the Pentagon."

The usually well-informed magazine thus joined the argument that has been raging the past week over how strong Soviet air power is. Most of the military and civilian officials who have expressed an opinion have agreed the Red air might is growing but they disagree widely on whether the Russians are ahead or behind the United States.

'Skeets' Gallagher, Retired Comedian, Dies In California

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 22 (AP)—Richard S. (Skeets) Gallagher, 64, former stage and film comedian, died today in St. John's Hospital after a brief illness.

Gallagher, retired for the last four years, suffered a heart attack a week ago.

Born in Terre Haute, Ind., Gallagher was graduated from the University of Indiana and began his Broadway career in 1915. He starred in many plays, one of which "Good Night, Ladies," enjoyed a four-year run in New York and other cities.

He came to Hollywood in 1929, the same year he married actress Pauline Mason. His many films included "It Pays to Advertise," "Road to Reno" and "Idiot's Delight."

British Dockers' Strike Set Today

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—The first of Britain's two election-week strikes—a dockworkers' walkout in four major ports—approached the deadline hour tonight without sign of settlement.

Prime Minister Eden conferred by telephone with his minister of labor, Sir Walter Monckton, as chances of averting a shipping tie-up faded rapidly.

Leaders of the small National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union (NASDU) said they were calling off their men and posting pickets on four of Britain's major ports—London, Liverpool, Manchester and Hull—starting tomorrow.

This was actually the lesser of Eden's strike headaches. Scheduled to come out on strike next Saturday are 70,000 members of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. The walkout would tie up Britain's state-run railroad system.

Senators Advise U.S. To Propose Soviet Pullback

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Sens. Knowland of California and Capehart of Indiana, said today the United States should ask Russia to pull back within its prewar boundaries at the proposed Big Four conference.

The two Republicans offered the same proposal in different TV-radio interviews. Capehart said he was sure that's what the United States would ask of the Soviet Union.

"Peace With Honor"
Knowland, the GOP Senate leader, said—on ABC's "College Press Conference"—the basis of negotiations with Russia should "depend on peace with honor rather than peace at any price."

He suggested the Russians withdraw to their own frontier, give up control over Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, get out of Poland and permit free elections there and allow free elections under U.N. supervision in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria.

Wants Congress Kept Informed

Knowland said Congress should be informed of the results of any Big Four conference immediately and the public should be advised within a year.

In answer to questions, the Californian said he would oppose any discussion of the Formosa question at the conference unless Nationalist China is represented.

Capehart said he was confident President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "are not going in any way to appease the Russians, that they are going to stand up and talk and carry to that conference the viewpoint of the American people."

Pravda Blast May Set Stage For Rejection

Editorial Implies Only U.S. Leaders Are Unreasonable

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Russia took a long step today toward rejection of the terms and conditions set by the Western Powers for a top-level Big Four conference this summer.

An editorial in Pravda, bitterly attacking these terms as if they had been proposed by the United States alone, also suggested to experts here that the Soviet Union is trying to drive a wedge between the United States on the one hand and Britain and France on the other. The implication of the Soviet line is that it is only the American leaders who are being unreasonable.

Actually the terms for the meeting—that it should be short and confined to a definition of the problems and the methods to be used in solving them—were jointly proposed to the Russians in an American-British-French note two weeks ago.

Official Note Expected

But since then President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have been more outspoken than their Paris and London Allies in emphasizing the strength and firmness of the Western stand. Apparently their assertions have annoyed the Soviets and also provided them with a convenient excuse for trying to change the nature and purposes of the meeting.

State Department officials said the Pravda editorial would have to be studied in detail. They would not be surprised if it was followed up by an official note from the Soviet government Monday or Tuesday along the same line, perhaps milder in tone.

Meanwhile the State Department had no formal comment. The initial reaction of U.S. officials was the Russians are not trying to get out of the Big Four meeting but probably are trying to twist it more to their purposes.

Length Of Meeting Issue

In this respect several interesting points stand out: 1. Pravda, which is the Communist party newspaper, said that the United States was being "unreasonable" about the length of the meeting. It also spoke of having the meeting give serious consideration to urgent international problems.

2. The editorial protested Western rejection of Vienna as a site for the conference. Secretary Dulles took the position it would be improper for Eisenhower to go into an area where the Russians shared occupation.

3. Pravda expressed deep resentment to a statement in the Dulles-Eisenhower radio-television broadcast of last Tuesday night that a Big Four conference should consider the problems of the Soviet satellite states and of ending the "test" of Communist operations in free countries.

Two Elkins Men Die When Plane Crashes

ROANOKE, Va., May 22 (AP)—Two prominent Elkins, W. Va., business men were killed shortly before noon today when their plane crashed 15 miles east of here after apparently exploding in flight.

Answer To Request For Pretzel

Jimmie Massie, 4, Los Angeles, is a happy young man thanks to the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. The youngster, a polio convalescent, recently asked the Chamber, through his father, Thomas Massie, for a good fresh pretzel from Philadelphia. It arrived recently and weighed 35 pounds.

Offense Against Hoa Hao Forces Planned By Diem

SAIGON, South Viet-Nam, May 22 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, seeking to unite South Viet Nam against the Communist Vietminh before it is too late, is preparing a massive offensive against hostile elements of the Hoa Hao religious sect.

Diem's new blow against feudal armies which divide and weaken this nation may fall within a matter of days.

French Forces Withdrawn
Chief of Staff Gen. Le Van Ty has massed a formidable striking force, including regiments of ex-Emperor Bao Dai's former imperial guard, in west Viet Nam, which the Hoa Hao controls. French military and naval forces in the area have been withdrawn hastily and the Hoa Hao armies are throwing up new defenses.

"There must be a day of reckoning," said a spokesman for the anti-Communist Premier. "In the fight against communism which menaces all our lives, special interests, private armies and feudal domains must be abolished. It is up to the Hoa Hao to decide whether to be unselfish and patriotic or callously indifferent to the peril of the people."

Binh Xuyen Smashed
The planned offensive against the Hoa Hao would follow hard on the heels of the national army's defeat of the Binh Xuyen society, a powerful and wealthy band of former pirates who also refused to give up their private interests and chose instead to meet the government in all-out combat.

The government's antagonists in this new phase of the South's pacification program total some 8,000 well-armed men, divided into two groups, under Gen. Tran Van Soai and Gen. Le Quang Vinh, who is better known as Bacut.

British Dockers' Strike Set Today

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—The first of Britain's two election-week strikes—a dockworkers' walkout in four major ports—approached the deadline hour tonight without sign of settlement.

Prime Minister Eden conferred by telephone with his minister of labor, Sir Walter Monckton, as chances of averting a shipping tie-up faded rapidly.

Leaders of the small National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union (NASDU) said they were calling off their men and were posting pickets on four of Britain's major ports—London, Liverpool, Manchester and Hull—starting tomorrow.

This was actually the lesser of Eden's strike headaches. Scheduled to come out on strike next Saturday are 70,000 members of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. The walkout would tie up Britain's state-run railroad system.

Senators Advise U.S. To Propose Soviet Pullback

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—

Sens. Knowland of California and Capehart of Indiana said today the United States should ask Russia to pull back within its prewar boundaries at the proposed Big Four conference.

The two Republicans offered the same proposal in different TV-radio interviews. Capehart said he was sure that's what the United States would ask of the Soviet Union.

"Peace With Honor"
Knowland, the GOP Senate leader, said—on ABC's "College Press Conference"—the basis of negotiations with Russia should "depend on peace with honor rather than peace at any price."

He suggested the Russians withdraw to their own frontier, give up control over Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, get out of Poland and permit free elections there and allow free elections under U.N. supervision in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria.

Wants Congress Kept Informed
Knowland said Congress should be informed of the results of any Big Four conference immediately and the public should be advised within a year.

In answer to questions, the Californian said he would oppose any discussion of the Formosa question at the conference unless Nationalist China is represented.

Capehart said he was confident President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "are not going in any way to appease the Russians, that they are going to stand up and talk and carry to that conference the viewpoint of the American people."

Two Elkins Men Die When Plane Crashes
ROANOKE, Va., May 22 (AP)—Two prominent Elkins, W. Va., business men were killed shortly before noon today when their plane crashed 15 miles east of here after apparently exploding in flight.

Victims of the mishap were: James Franklin Ketterman, superintendent of the Elkins plant of the Preston Hardwood Lumber Co.

Harold Clayton Herring, 40, vice president of the lumber company.

They died when their four-place, single engine plane plunged to the ground in mountainous terrain about three miles northeast of Stewartville in Bedford County during a thunderstorm.

American Is Gored In Debut As Matador

MADRID, Spain, May 22 (AP)—Porter Tuck, "The Boston Blond," was badly gored today during his debut as an apprentice matador in Vista Alegre Arena.

The 22-year-old American was taken to the hospital after being caught twice by his second bull of the afternoon. Although doctors called his wounds "grave" they said he would be all right in a few days.

Tuck showed great courage in his performance but a lack of knowledge of the technique of bullfighting.

Pravda Blast May Set Stage For Rejection

Editorial Implies Only U.S. Leaders Are Unreasonable

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Russia took a long step today toward rejection of the terms and conditions set by the Western Powers for a top-level Big Four conference this summer.

An editorial in Pravda, bitterly attacking these terms as if they had been proposed by the United States alone, also suggested to experts here that the Soviet Union is trying to drive a wedge between the United States on the one hand and Britain and France on the other. The implication of the Soviet line is that it is only the American leaders who are being unreasonable.

Actually the terms for the meeting—that it should be short and confined to a definition of the problems and the methods to be used in solving them—were jointly proposed to the Russians in an American-British-French note two weeks ago.

Official Note Expected

But since then President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have been more outspoken than their Paris and London Allies in emphasizing the strength and firmness of the Western stand. Apparently their assertions have annoyed the Soviets and also provided them with a convenient excuse for trying to change the nature and purposes of the meeting.

State Department officials said the Pravda editorial would have to be studied in detail. They would not be surprised if it was followed up by an official note from the Soviet government Monday or Tuesday along the same line, perhaps milder in tone.

Meanwhile the State Department had no formal comment. The initial reaction of U.S. officials was the Russians are not trying to get out of the Big Four meeting but probably are trying to twist it more to their purposes.

Length Of Meeting Issue
In this respect several interesting points stand out:

1. Pravda, which is the Communist party newspaper, said that the United States was being "unreasonable" about the length of the meeting. It also spoke of having the meeting give serious consideration to urgent international problems.

2. The editorial protested Western rejection of Vienna as a site for the conference. Secretary Dulles took the position it would be improper for Eisenhower to go into an area where the Russians shared occupation.

3. Pravda expressed deep resentment to a statement in the Dulles-Eisenhower radio-television broadcast of last Tuesday night that a Big Four conference should consider the problems of and ending the "test" of Communist operations in free countries.

Italian Papers Think U.S. Troops Leaving Austria Will Go To 'Neutral' Zone Border

ROME, May 22 (AP)—Italian newspapers from left to right said today U. S. occupation troops to be pulled out of Austria may be asked to set up bases in north-eastern Italy if a Russian-proposed "neutral" zone is established.

There has been no official confirmation of these reports.

Informal sources said the Austrian independence treaty which will leave that country in a neutral position and reports that the Russians would like to have a neutral Yugoslavia emerge from forthcoming talks in Belgrade between President Tito and Soviet leaders may force Western defense planners to revise their blueprints.

These informants said any new U. S. bases in Italy would have to be decided on in Washington and at NATO headquarters in Paris after Italian approval.

Several Italian newspapers which support Mario Scelba's government said Austrian neutrality and the Belgrade talks will mean a new role for Italy in defense of the West.

The pro-government Giornale D'Italia headlined: "... 480 kilometers (300 miles) of frontier laid bare to the East." The same paper said in an editorial Italy's northeastern defenses would have to be reorganized. The conservative paper Il Tempo said Italy will be assigned a new, major role in the Atlantic alliance.

These views appeared based on the assumption that a neutral Austria and a neutral Yugoslavia would be to the advantage of the Soviet bloc and the disadvantage of Western defense.

The Communists are already firing protests against further establishment of U. S. bases in Italy and stepping up demands for making this country neutral in the cold war. The United States has a large supply base at the Mediterranean port of Leghorn whose function has been to support U. S. forces in Austria.

Nation Dedicates School Memorial To Ace Of Aces

POPLAR, Wis., May 22 (AP)—America dedicated a school building memorial to its ace of aces, Maj. Richard Ira Bong, here today.

President Eisenhower sent his greetings. Generals, former commanders of the famed fighter pilot, voiced tribute. State and national officials and old friends praised his memory.

And in a thrilling aerial salute, a P38 fighter plane of the type Bong flew against the Japanese in World War II, flew low across the $115,000 brick gymnasium and school addition, and dipped its wings to another P38 mounted high on steel girders in the school yard.

The same P38 returned moments later, leading a formation of modern jet aircraft, throttled back to the P38's slower pace.

Said Gen. George Kenney, World War II air commander in the Pacific, at the conclusion of an emotion-filled address to the crowd attending the dedication ceremony: "May this memorial building constantly remind us of our debt to our youth which has always been willing to make any sacrifice to insure that the rest of us can keep and inherit our freedom."

Several thousand persons thronged to this town of 489 to pay tribute to the flyer at the school grounds where farm boy Bong learned his ABCs.

Bong shot down 40 Japanese planes from his P38, from New Guinea to the Philippines, without once suffering injury.

He was killed in a jet plane accident near Burbank, Calif., Aug. 6, 1945, the same day the first atomic bomb was exploded at Hiroshima.

Old Skull Found Near Ellicott City

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., May 22 (AP)—An old skull, embedded in sand at the bottom of a 60-foot excavation, has been found on a farm five miles east of the city.

Clarence L. Kemper, operator of a sand and gravel business, said he uncovered it Friday while scooping up sand with a bulldozer.

Dr. Russell S. Fischer, the State's chief medical examiner, said from the description of the find he judged that the skull was that of a young Indian.

Training School Probers To Meet

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP)—A newly appointed committee to investigate the administration of Maryland's four training schools for juvenile delinquents will hold its first meeting here Friday, Chairman Philip H. Goodman said today.

Goodman, Democratic senator from Baltimore's 5th District, said the initial session will be devoted to setting up hearings and visits to the schools.

The 1955 Legislature rejected a plan to abolish the boards of managers at the institutions and place the operation of the school in the hands of the State Department of Welfare. The department now exercises only general control over the school programs and leaves the details to the boards.

The plan to abolish the boards was proposed by a commission appointed by Gov. McKeldin and directed by Clarence W. Miles, Baltimore lawyer.

Goodman said the Miles proposal, the present system of operating the schools and any new plans would be considered by his committee.

CAMBRIDGE, Md., May 22 (AP)—A Pennsylvania construction worker who told police a woman jumped from the truck he was driving along U. S. 50 will be charged with manslaughter in her death, State's Atty. C. Burnam Mace said last night.

The body of Geraldine Moore Golt, about 30, of Cambridge, was spotted lying in the road by Bernard Allen Cohen, 24, of Baltimore.

Cohen told police he was unable to stop his car in time and ran over the woman.

Miss Golt was pronounced dead on arrival at Cambridge Hospital.

Consolidated Foods Buys 'Kenneweg Co.

Purchase of the Kenneweg Co., one of the oldest wholesale grocery firms in Western Maryland, was completed Thursday when S. M. Kennedy, president of Consolidated Foods Corporation, Chicago, handed a check for payment in full to W. E. White, who was president of Kenneweg until that company's recent dissolution. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Here for final closing of a deal that has been in process of completion for several months were D. B. Montgomery, Chicago, in charge of Consolidated Food's real estate division; William G. Bauer, Richmond, Va., general manager of the Southern Division, and Kennedy who heads the nationwide processing and distributing corporation that has taken over in the past few years such diversified concerns as the C. D. Kenny Co., Sprague Warner, Gentry Bros., Griggs Cooper, Western Grocers, Richelleu Brands, Monarch Finer Foods and other widely known corporations.

Although Chicago is now the headquarters of the nationally operating Consolidated Foods Corporation, many of the officials are former C. D. Kenny Co. executives, including Kennedy and the chairman of the board, Nathan Cummings. Gen. Mark W. Clark is a member of the board of directors. Acquisition of the Kenneweg Co. in Cumberland, doubling the warehouse capacity as compared with Consolidated's (Kenny's) former location in the Baltimore Fidelity Warehouse on Canal Street, is one of three major increases by the company this year. The other two are establishment of an International Division in San Francisco and consolidation of all processing and distribution units in the Chicago area in one immense building at River Grove, Ill., a Chicago suburb. Whereas the former Cumberland Division headquarters had 30,000 square feet of floor space and the Kenneweg purchase now gives 60,000 square feet, the new Chicago center provides 572,000 square feet, nearly ten times the floor space now available here.

"We would not double our floor space here and invest a substantial sum of money in real estate unless we were convinced that Cumberland has a bright future," Kennedy said. "Our business here has shown a marked increase in the past year. We are proving our faith in this transportation and trade center by becoming tax payers and, we hope, good citizens."

Kennedy paid tribute to John R. Watson, division manager here, who has been with the old Kenny Co. and Consolidated since 1925. Watson is also a vice president of the Monarch Finer Foods Division of Consolidated, as is Bauer, the Southern Division manager.

When Watson, a native of Eckhart, first became manager here, the Kenny Co. had two trucks and three salesmen. Today eight trucks are in operation and there are 13 salesmen and 16 other employees. Although the final money exchange did not take place until this past week, the moving of stock and equipment to the Kenneweg building, Baltimore Street, began early in April and was completed before May 1.

Kennedy said a modernization program is in prospect at the historic old building which was a hotel (the Revere House) before during and immediately after the Civil War.

"Cumberland is a definite marketing center," said Kennedy, "and recent business and civic activity here has been impressive. I hope to get back for the Biennial Pageant Week in August."

The RDC equipment, which is now being used by the B & O in commuter service in the Pittsburgh vicinity, as well as between Brunswick, Washington and Baltimore, is viewed as the prototype of high-speed trains of the future. The Washington-Chicago run is expected to provide valuable information on the practicability of this type of equipment for fast daylight service between such points as Philadelphia-Washington and Washington-Pittsburgh, as well as farther west on the B & O system.

The test run will be made on May 28 with departure from Union Station, at 7:45 a. m. (EDT). Cumberland will be one of four stops between Washington and Chicago. It will arrive here at 9:25 a. m. next Saturday and leave at 9:28. On the return trip, on May 30, the train will stop in Cumberland for over an hour to give passengers time to eat dinner. Arrival is set for 6:05 p. m. and departure at 7:15.

The Memorial Day trip will mark the first use of equipment of this type in the area between Pittsburgh and Chicago.

B&O Schedules New Diesel Cars On Memorial Day

An all-daylight, high-speed trip from Washington to Chicago, in lightweight self-propelled Rail Diesel Cars will be operated by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad over the Memorial Day weekend. The trip, which is sponsored by the Washington Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society, is expected to take less than 13 hours running time—two and one-half hours less than the usual operating time from Washington to Chicago.

Originally, two of the RDC (Budd-built) cars were scheduled to make up the train but the demand for space resulted in a three-car train which will accommodate 225 passengers in addition to railroad and Budd Company officials.

JOHN SCHWARZENBACH

Schwarzenbach Rites Today

Services for John Schwarzenbach, 82, of 508 Washington Street, prominent business and civic leader, who died Friday night in Memorial Hospital, will be held today at 3 p. m. at the residence.

Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, will officiate and interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Harry J. Barton, G. William Bibby, J. William Hunt, Joseph Koegel, John H. Mosner and Russell Ponton.

Eldest of the five children of George A. P. and Margaret (Wiegman) Schwarzenbach, he was born four years after his father opened his first store 86 years ago at 11 North Mechanic street. The senior Schwarzenbach had landed in Baltimore from his native Germany early in 1869. After a few months employment in a clothing store there, he came to Cumberland where a large German population had begun to settle in the 1840s.

Completing the course at St. Luke's Lutheran parochial school at 15, John then attended Strayer's Business School in Baltimore. His father, believing that everyone should learn by apprenticeship from the bottom up, arranged for his son to work for a wholesale concern in Baltimore.

The future business and civic leader worked seven days a week, being required to pack trunks on Sundays for the company's traveling salesmen.

Learning to know cloth materials by touch, young Schwarzenbach was required to recognize the various grades of wool, cotton materials and silks without fail. He maintained that a merchant should know everything possible about materials and workmanship as a protection to his customers.

In 1901 George Schwarzenbach's Store became Schwarzenbach and Son, John being admitted to the firm, and that is the corporate name today.

When the large four-story building now occupied by Schwarzenbach's on Baltimore Street, was under construction in 1911-1912, Mr. and Mrs. George Schwarzenbach went to Europe leaving the completion of the project under the direction of John and his brother George. The opening of this mercantile establishment in 1912 gave Cumberland the largest men's store between Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

A 32nd Degree Mason and member of Ali Ghan Shrine, AAOONS, John Schwarzenbach was one of the organizers of the Scottish Rite here. He never missed the Maundy Thursday dinner for more than a half century until this year. He held membership in Cumberland Lodge 63 BPO Elks. A charter member of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, he was on its executive committee and his advice and financial aid were important factors in its high standing in the nation.

Bank Director

Mr. Schwarzenbach was a director in the old Western Maryland Hospital, predecessor of Memorial Hospital. He also was a director of the Second National Bank and was treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association from the time of its organization nearly 40 years ago.

Preceding him in death on February 4, 1959, was Mr. Schwarzenbach's wife, the former Ella Shaffer Schwarzenbach.

Surviving are a daughter, Margaret, wife of U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall; two sons, John Louis Schwarzenbach and George Albert Schwarzenbach, both of Cumberland; a sister, Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach, Cumberland; two brothers, Emil Schwarzenbach, also of Cumberland, and William Schwarzenbach, of Atlantic City, N. J. Another brother, George Schwarzenbach, died some years ago.

Mr. Schwarzenbach also is survived by three grandsons, John Glenn Beall Jr., Richard O. Beall and George Beall, all of Frostburg.

Automation Plays Part In Defense

One of the dramatic aspects of the demonstration of conventional fire power at Eglin Field, Fla., the other day was the fact that war-making techniques are becoming so intricate and involve such extremely fast reactions that the limit of human capabilities is being approached. Main reliance soon must of necessity be upon automatic mechanical and electronic functions.

In the amazing performance of precision flying, human beings have advanced farther and faster than could have been foreseen a few years ago, but it is apparent that they will be unable to act fast enough to do the sighting, aiming and firing that will be necessary a few years hence.

Thus automatic detecting, evaluating and aiming devices will hurl explosives at objectives by automatic electronic controls which perform in tiny split seconds and even follow their quarry around in the dark for the kill. The guided missiles increasingly tend to become independent of human control.

One of the top scientists at this demonstration specializes in aircraft and electronics, and he says that the final answer to threats of enemy aggression will be a periphery of formidable trans-oceanic missiles, carrying atomic warheads, which will be released automatically when the signal is given, and these will constitute the first massive reaction to attack.

In many if not most instances such missiles will seek out their victims without human intervention.

The new Thunderstreak jet planes and analogous craft will do wonders under human guidance, with pilots aboard, but it is possible if not probable that reliance will shift from on-the-spot controls to automatic operations, executed so fast that they will largely evade detection by human eyes. That weird consummation now seems to be the "wave of the future" as far as national defense is concerned.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Face Of A People

LONDON — Each country, in the historic process of molding a nation, develops a national personality that is as distinctive as that of each individual. No two are alike. We, in the United States, only too often think of the British and ourselves as the same kind of people, perhaps because we speak the same language and stem intellectually from an identical historic origin, but one need not be here more than an hour, watching one of the most important elections in British history, to discover vast differences in character. This election is only a week away, but it has not "hotted up" yet.

It is obviously not an exciting election. The fact is that the voters do not understand why an election is held at this time at all. The Conservatives still had 18 months to continue in office. There are many explanations, the favorite being that Sir Anthony Eden did not want to finish Sir Winston Churchill's term. He wanted the confidence of the people all on his own. Then he could continue for five years if he gets a working majority in the House of Commons and holds that majority.

Others suggest that there must be some great events in the world about which the people know nothing, and that if Sir Anthony Eden is to devote himself to negotiations on major problems, he must show that he is not merely a successor to Churchill but that he was directly chosen by the people. In a word, as the people wonder why there is an election, they speculate what Eden knows that they do not know.

The people here in England want peace. It is possible to say that if there is any issue in this campaign at all, it is peace. England is prosperous and knows full employment after an era of bitter austerity. This people remembers the war — not only World War II but World War I. They remember the pits in London made by Nazi block-busters. They remember the period in the war when they were practically a besieged island and the people lived on hunger rations. Now that they have a prosperity beyond their imaginations in those horrible days, they want peace.

The Conservatives have the advantage in the argument that it was Churchill who saw them through a war that might have been a conquest and that Eden has labored for peace. The Austrian Treaty and the agreement for the Big Four to meet "at the summit" are undoubtedly helping the Conservatives. At any rate, it has robbed the Socialists of the principal issue. It has, in fact, left them without an issue.

There is no argument against prosperity and full employment. Socialism can create an anger against possessions and the possessors when times are bad, when groceries are costly and the future is dim. But what is to be said against prosperity except that it is too good to be true?

The result is a campaign without issues, a campaign which brings out small audiences to meetings. Only Winston Churchill and Aneurin Bevan excite interest and attention and both are curiosities rather than political candidates. Churchill has become a living monument, a person above all parties and issues, one whom men and women want to see and hear.

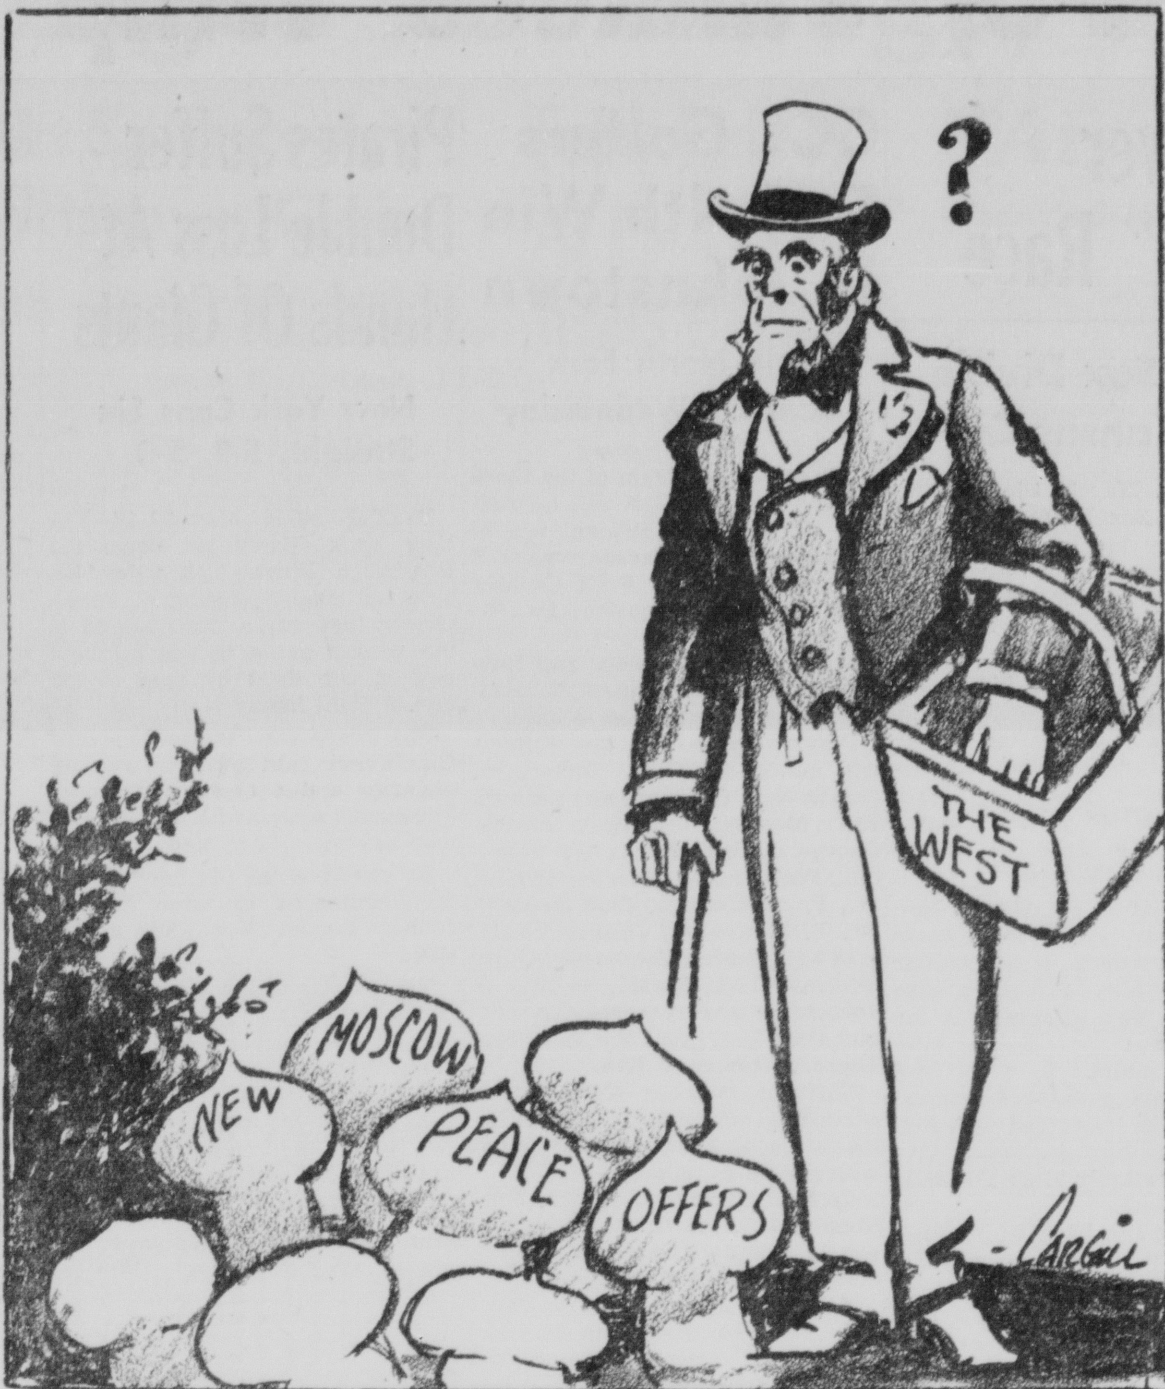

Bevan is believed to be a man with a future, the most dangerous man in Great Britain today.

It is generally held that he will lead his country some day to extreme Socialism if he has the chance. At him, people look and they listen. But it is not believed that he will carry the Socialists, that is, the Labour Party, forward in this election.

The fear is that the defeat of the Socialists in this election will lead to the end of Clement Attlee's leadership and that the Labour Party will be taken over by Aneurin Bevan. On the other hand, some say that the Labour Party is so split that its defeat in this election will result in a realignment by which those who are Liberal Socialists will break with the Labourites who are Communists, pro-Communists and fellow-travelers (here they are called crypto-Communists). Such a division would produce a new party. The Liberals, who have been reduced to what might be called a splinter party, hope that it might lead to a revival of their party of the middle-of-the-road.

Toadstools, Or Mushrooms?

Senate Majority Leader Is A Smooth-Working Pro

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON There is always something peculiarly satisfying about watching a genuine professional at work, whether on the baseball diamond or on the floor of the United States Senate. Anyone who wants to see in action the best professional floor leader of our time need only visit the Senate gallery at a tense legislative moment, and keep his eye on the tall, lanky, slow-moving form of the Majority Leader, as he ambles about the floor below.

Like a great professional athlete, Lyndon Johnson of Texas makes no waste motion. A word here and there, a casual political arm around a recalcitrant shoulder, a brief, companionable colloquy with his opposite number, William Knowland of California—and the chances are that the bill under consideration will slide through the Senate almost without debate.

Take a few recent examples. The reciprocal trade bill which had generated immensely heavy pressures from back home, was in very bad trouble. It was being freely predicted that it would pass, if at all, only after weeks of weary wrangling and many crippling amendments. It passed after three days of debate, in surprisingly unmitigated form.

Traditionally, the Agricultural Appropriations Act, touching as it does many sensitive farm pocket-books, is the subject of loud, long, and angry argument. It passed, all unnoticed, after exactly an hour of debate. The Colorado basin reclamation bill involved one of the hottest political issues in the Far West. The bill has often been debated in other sessions, but never passed. It went through the Senate in this session in three days. The Paris Accords, which could have been expected at the very least to have elicited a lot of oratory for the folks back home, slipped through in just two hours.

Anyone Under 15 Should Receive Polio Vaccine Shot

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

This article was written six weeks ago, just after Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. announced the results of the Salk polio vaccine. I was delighted with the report and congratulations are in order for all concerned.

Research of this type always raises unmet questions and brings forth no end of speculation. If our present concept of polio is correct, the new vaccine does not protect against polio but does prevent paralytic polio. Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the vaccine, explains that the polio virus settles originally in the intestinal tract and spreads to the blood stream, which carries it to the nervous system.

Early non-paralytic symptoms occur after the virus invades the intestine and enters the blood stream. Here is where the vaccine enters the picture. It produces in the blood protective antibodies which, when present in sufficient numbers, can stop the virus from reaching the nervous system. But it is powerless against non-paralytic polio.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The president of a billion-dollar corporation faced his board of directors with a grim look on his face. "I'm going to put it squarely to you, J. D.," he said to the first vice president. "Have you been taking out my secretary after hours?"

"Gosh, chief," blushed J. D. "I didn't think you'd mind." In turn, other executives admitted that they too had not been immune to the charms of the prexy's secretary.

The newest and youngest board member was made of sterner stuff. "I'm happy to say," he announced, "that I've had no extra-curricular contact with the young lady in question."

"You're just the man we're looking for!" boomed the president. "Go right outside and fire her!"

a Kentucky farmer, "Having any trouble this summer with insects in your corn?"

"Sure, have," said the farmer, "but we just fish 'em out and drink it anyhow."

U. S. Tourists Complicate Selection Of Site For Big Four Conference

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Secretary Dulles is having a terrible time trying to decide where to hold the Big-Four Conference. The trouble is—American tourists.

As a result, Dulles has been unable to find any neutral city which can squeeze in the some 500 Russian, American, British and French delegates who would attend the meeting. He's ruled out Geneva because President Eisenhower regards it as a city where the West agreed to give up half of Indo-China to the Communists. He's also turned down Russia's proposal of Vienna; and the British suggestion of Lugano, Switzerland, because there aren't enough hotels.

It now looks like Ike would have to go to Stockholm to talk with Marshal Bulganin. But even this is not certain because the Swedish government says the conference would completely disrupt its tourist season though it might be able to persuade enough Swedes to give up their private homes to accommodate the Big-Four delegates.

Democrats' Big Headache

Biggest headache of the Democrats both in Congress and the nation isn't being advertised and won't be. He is a Congressman from North Carolina, quiet, courteous, courtly, who is sitting directly in the path of new schoolhouses for several million youngsters and in the path of higher minimum wages for several million underpaid workers.

Mr. Graham Barden, the gentleman in question, does this through two simple expedients.

EXPEDIENT NO. 1—is the time-honored rule of seniority which gives him the right to sit as chairman of the Labor and Education Committee whether he is qualified to pass on its problems or not.

EXPEDIENT NO. 2—is Barden's system of holding hearings. He has been holding hearings and hearings and more hearings on school construction. His committee held hearings last year under the Republicans. Seven different national groups have studied and held hearings.

The congress already knows all about school construction. Nevertheless, Congressman Barden continues to hold hearings.

This does two things. First it delays the school-construction bill. Second it delays the minimum-wage bill.

Congressman Barden is bitterly opposed to both. He is too smart to say this publicly, but he is.

A former schoolteacher, Barden once fought for federal aid to education and incurred the wrath of Cardinal Spellman for so doing. Today the issue of parochial schools is not involved. But school desegregation is involved and Barden doesn't like the Supreme Court's ruling for desegregation.

Republicans Laugh

Congressman Barden is also opposed to higher minimum wages because, first, a low minimum wage brings more factories from the North to the South; second, because he comes from a farm area which doesn't go for high wages.

Most significant factor about Barden's opposition is that the Republicans are quietly helping him—and getting a big laugh out of it. For their secret help to Barden puts all the blame on the Democrats, and may even alienate part of the labor support hitherto steadfastly behind the Democrats.

The Republicans could easily swing two voters over to the Democrats to outvote Barden, thus getting action on the education bill and clearing the way for the minimum-wage bill. But they won't do it.

There are 17 Democrats on Barden's Labor and Education Committee of whom 15 are eager to push through school and minimum-wage bills. Only two Democrats, Barden and Landrum of Georgia, are opposed.

On the Republican side are 13 members, of whom many are anti-labor, such as Wint Smith of Kansas, Velde of Illinois, Hoffman of Michigan, and Gwynn of New York. But there are two good Eisenhower Republicans, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Wainwright of New York, who could turn the entire committee around overnight.

But they don't. They vote with the reactionaries—and for a very good political reason. They want to put all the blame on the Democrats for not passing two of the most important bills before Congress—school construction and minimum wages.

Just the other day, the Republicans caucused secretly and voted, under the leadership of Congressman Sam McConnell of Philadelphia, to stall for another two weeks. The stall means more school hearings.

Ike Says 90 Cents

Republicans officially have gone on record as being for a higher minimum wage and Eisenhower personally has fixed the figure at 90 cents instead of the current 75 cents. The Democrats favor a higher figure, and Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Democrat, having finished his subcommittee hearings, is recommending a minimum wage of about $1.05.

But with the entire question stalled in Barden's committee, it's doubtful that any legislation can be passed this year. Meanwhile labor delegations have been pouring into Washington, especially from the needle and textile trades, protesting that a man can't support a family on 75 cents an hour and that one segment of labor is getting more and more depressed.

Meanwhile labor leaders are getting sorer and sorer at Democratic leaders. They have been to see Paul Butler, Democratic National Chairman. They have been to see Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson. And they've been to see Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is supposed to control his own House of Representatives. Sam has been glum and uncommunicative.

Either he can't overrule the stubborn Congressman from New Bern, N. C., or doesn't want to.

Meanwhile, with both Rayburn and Johnson hell-bent to adjourn Congress early in July, and with Ike equally anxious to get rid of Congress by July, it's a safe prediction there'll be no school or minimum-wage bills passed this year.

Solution? Telephone

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The only solution now known for the parking nuisance is for people to stay at home and use the telephone! In fact, the present increase in auto accidents and the lack of parking space will drive people to greater use of the telephone. Otherwise, congestion will so increase that we will travel "bumper to bumper." When one car stops, then all must stop.

The Merchant's Opportunity

Every storekeeper should at once install an extra telephone which should be used only for incoming calls. No one in the store, not even the boss, should be allowed to make calls on this extra phone. It should be reserved for "Customers' Calls Only." When customers complain of finding it "busy," then a second such phone should be installed.

Merchants should advertise more and solicit telephone orders more. Many customers now dread going downtown to shop on account of the parking problem and the general congestion. Hence, they stay at home and the merchants lose customers. Buying is being constantly postponed. Therefore, in their advertising, merchants should urge people to use the telephone, stating that special phones exist for incoming calls only.

Importance Of Habits

The present method of shopping has been the custom for centuries. It has become an instinctive habit which will change only slowly, but the sooner shopkeepers determine to change this habit, the better off all will be. Otherwise, our downtown retail sidewalks may become as deserted on weekdays as they are now on Sundays.

As they have a virtual monopoly, the telephone companies seem to be little interested in helping shopkeepers in their present dilemma. This criticism is said to apply especially to the big Bell companies. These are rich and ruled by self-satisfied bureaucracies. These telephone companies claim that they have no phones enough to take care of all the demands. This is nonsense. If they would be willing to buy more telephone equipment from outside manufacturers and develop more efficient installation crews, all demands could be filled.

Avoid Being Killed

My appeal for a greater use of the telephone is not solely to help businessmen keep their customers. The telephone can also help us to keep a life. Hubert L. Kerr has recently stated that while only two persons per 100,000 die from polio, yet, in the same ages, 50 young persons per 100,000 are being killed by automobiles. As these figures become recognized, I forecast that people will visit less by automobile and visit more by telephone.

People will remain home more and travel less. Travel by automobile — except for business — may now be near its peak. Even business calls will be made more by telephone and less by automobile. It takes time to change habits; but the present habit of making both personal and business calls by travel may become a thing of the past. All habits can be changed.

What About Television?

Television is already taking the place of the movies. When television gets over its "teen-age" period of "sowing wild oats" and gets settled down to decent programs, many more families will prefer TV to going out evenings to a movie. When television is hooked up with the telephone so we can see with whom we talk, then automobiles may be used only in emergencies. In fact, the time is coming when most of the better automobiles will carry telephones. These will be used not only in case of car trouble but also for business and social calls.

In short, I believe that the telephone industry is headed for a great future with tremendous growth ahead. This will come from an increase in population and from a much-increased use per capita, especially among the younger generation. The telephone can create greater sales, can save more time, and can protect us from unnecessary accidents and other losses. I also believe that telephone securities are among the safest of all securities which give a good income.

Automation Plays Part In Defense

One of the dramatic aspects of the demonstration of conventional fire power at Eglin Field, Fla., the other day was the fact that war-making techniques are becoming so intricate and involve such extremely fast reactions that the limit of human capabilities is being approached. Main reliance soon must of necessity be upon automatic mechanical and electronic functions.

In the amazing performance of precision flying, human beings have advanced farther and faster than could have been foreseen a few years ago, but it is apparent that they will be unable to act fast enough to do the sighting, aiming and firing that will be necessary a few years hence.

Thus automatic detecting, evaluating and aiming devices will hurl explosives at objectives by automatic electronic controls which perform in tiny split seconds and even follow their quarry around in the dark for the kill. The guided missiles increasingly tend to become independent of human control.

One of the top scientists at this demonstration specializes in aircraft and electronics, and he says that the final answer to threats of enemy aggression will be a periphery of formidable trans-oceanic missiles, carrying atomic warheads, which will be released automatically when the signal is given, and these will constitute the first massive reaction to attack.

In many if not most instances such missiles will seek out their victims without human intervention.

The new Thunderstreak jet planes and analogous craft will do wonders under human guidance, with pilots aboard, but it is possible if not probable that reliance will shift from on-the-spot controls to automatic operations, executed so fast that they will largely evade detection by human eyes. That weird consummation now seems to be the "wave of the future" as far as national defense is concerned.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Face Of A People

LONDON — Each country, in the historic process of molding a nation, develops a national personality that is as distinctive as that of each individual. No two are alike. We, in the United States, only too often think of the British and ourselves as the same kind of people, perhaps because we speak the same language and stem intellectually from an identical historic origin, but one need not be here more than an hour, watching one of the most important elections in British history, to discover vast differences in character. This election is only a week away, but it has not "hotted up" yet.

It is obviously not an exciting election. The fact is that the voters do not understand why an election is held at this time at all. The Conservatives still had 18 months to continue in office. There are many explanations, the favorite being that Sir Anthony Eden did not want to finish Sir Winston Churchill's term. He wanted the confidence of the people all on his own. Then he could continue for five years if he gets a working majority in the House of Commons and holds that majority.

Others suggest that there must be some great events in the world about which the people know nothing, and that if Sir Anthony Eden is to devote himself to negotiations on major problems, he must show that he is not merely a successor to Churchill but that he was directly chosen by the people. In a word, as the people wonder why there is an election, they speculate what Eden knows that they do not know.

The people here in England want peace. It is possible to say that if there is any issue in this campaign at all, it is peace. England is prosperous and knows full employment after an era of bitter austerity. This people remembers the war — not only World War II but World War I. They remember the pits in London made by Nazi block-busters. They remember the period in the war when they were practically a besieged island and the people lived on hunger rations. Now that they have a prosperity beyond their imaginations in those horrible days, they want peace.

The Conservatives have the advantage in the argument that it was Churchill who saw them through a war that might have been a conquest and that Eden has labored for peace. The Austrian Treaty and the agreement for the Big Four to meet "at the summit" are undoubtedly helping the Conservatives. At any rate, it has robbed the Socialists of the principal issue. It has, in fact, left them without an issue.

There is no argument against prosperity and full employment. Socialism can create an anger against possessions and the possessors when times are bad, when groceries are costly and the future is dim. But what is to be said against prosperity except that it is too good to be true?

The result is a campaign without issues, a campaign which brings out small audiences to meetings. Only Winston Churchill and Aneurin Bevan excite interest and attention and both are curiosities rather than political candidates. Churchill has become a living monument, a person above all parties and issues, one whom men and women want to see and hear.

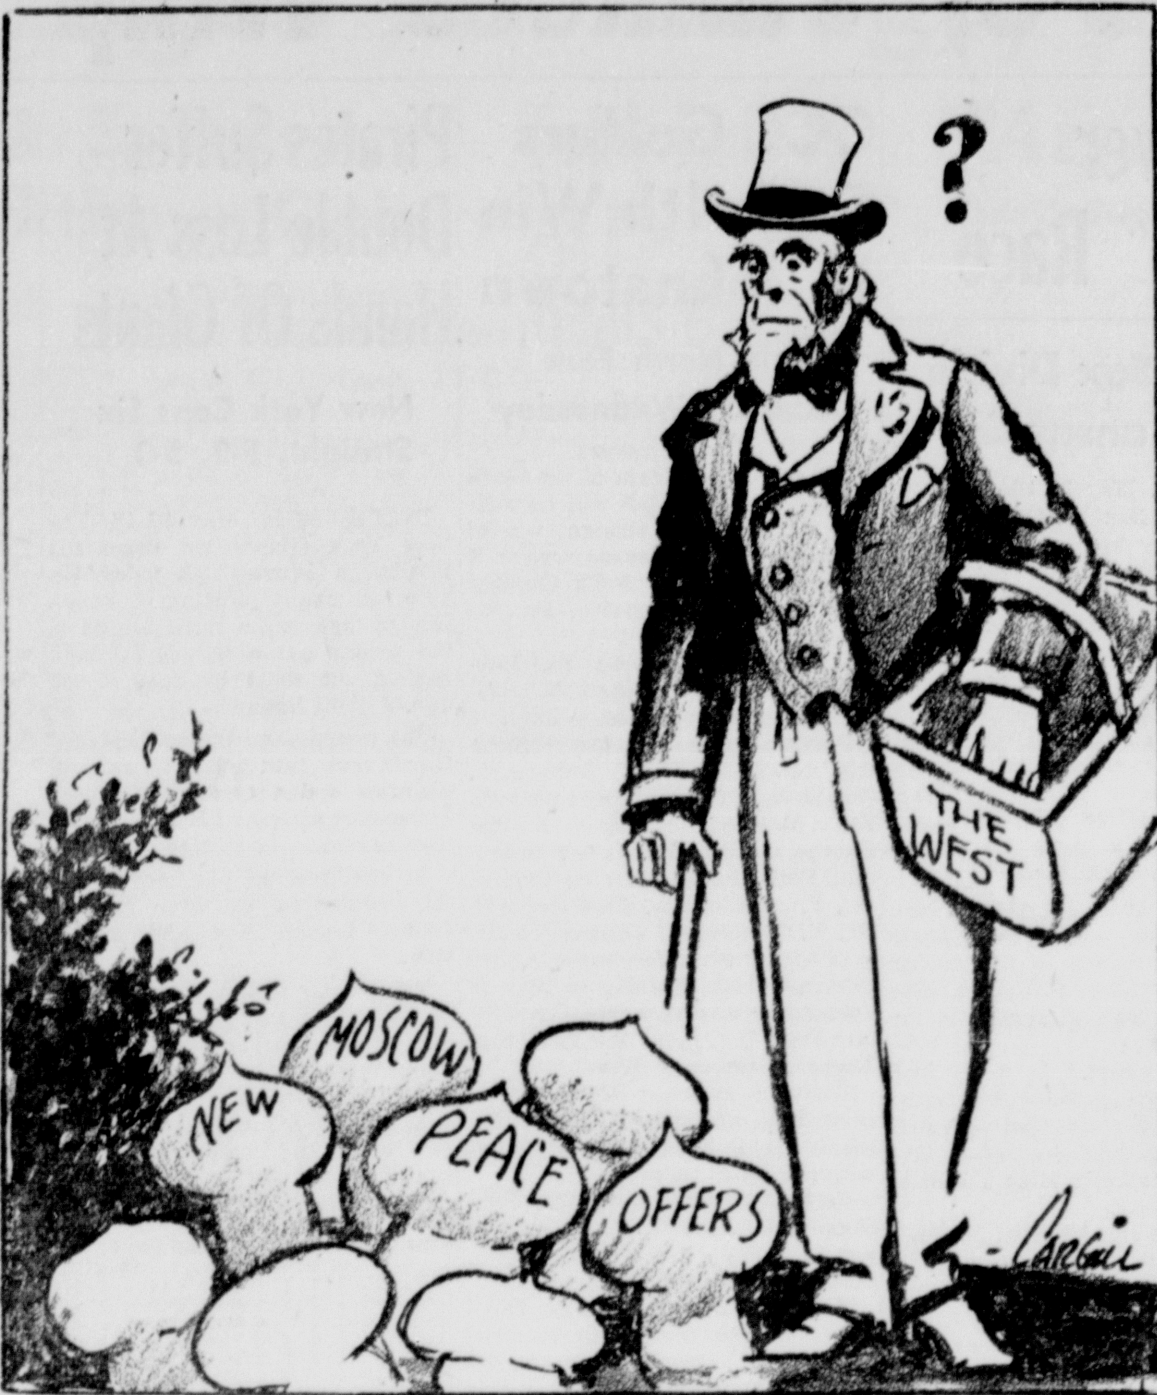

Bevan is believed to be a man with a future, the most dangerous man in Great Britain today.

It is generally held that he will lead his country some day to extreme Socialism if he has the chance. At him, people look and they listen. But it is not believed that he will carry the Socialists, that is, the Labour Party, forward in this election.

The fear is that the defeat of the Socialists in this election will lead to the end of Clement Attlee's leadership and that the Labour Party will be taken over by Aneurin Bevan. On the other hand, some say that the Labour Party is so split that its defeat in this election will result in a realignment by which those who are Liberal Socialists will break with the Labourites who are Communists, pro-Communists and fellow-travelers (there they are called crypto-Communists). Such a division would produce a new party. The Liberals, who have been reduced to what might be called a splinter party, hope that it might lead to a revival of their party of the middle-of-the-road.

Toadstools, Or Mushrooms?

Senate Majority Leader Is A Smooth-Working Pro

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

There is always something peculiarly satisfying about watching a genuine professional at work, whether on the baseball diamond or on the floor of the United States Senate. Anyone who wants to see in action the best professional floor leader of our time need only visit the Senate gallery at a tense legislative moment, and keep his eye on the tall, lanky, slow-moving form of the Majority Leader, as he ambles about the floor below.

Like a great professional athlete, Lyndon Johnson of Texas makes no waste motion. A word here and there, a casual political arm around a recalcitrant shoulder, a brief, companionable colloquy with his opposite number, William Knowland of California—and the chances are that the bill under consideration will slide through the Senate almost without debate.

Take a few recent examples. The reciprocal trade bill which had generated immensely heavy pressures from back home, was in very bad trouble. It was being freely predicted that it would pass, if at all, only after weeks of weary wrangling and many crippling amendments. It passed after three days of debate, in surprisingly untroubled form.

Traditionally, the Agricultural Appropriations Act, touching as it does many sensitive farm pocket-books, is the subject of loud, long, and angry argument. It passed, all unnoticed, after exactly an hour of debate. The Colorado basin reclamation bill involved one of the hottest political issues in the Far West. The bill has often been debated in other sessions, but never passed. It went through the Senate in this session in three days. The Paris Accords, which could have been expected at the very least to have elicited a lot of oratory for the folks back home, slipped through in just two hours.

Anyone Under 15 Should Receive Polio Vaccine Shot

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

This article was written six weeks ago, just after Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. announced the results of the Salk polio vaccine. I was delighted with the report and congratulations are in order for all concerned.

Research of this type always raises unmet questions and brings forth no end of speculation. If our present concept of polio is correct, the new vaccine does not protect against polio but does prevent paralytic polio. Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the vaccine, explains that the polio virus settles originally in the intestinal tract and spreads to the blood stream, which carries it to the nervous system.

Early non-paralytic symptoms occur after the virus invades the intestine and enters the blood stream. Here is where the vaccine enters the picture. It produces in the blood protective antibodies which, when present in sufficient numbers, can stop the virus from reaching the nervous system. But it is powerless against non-paralytic polio.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The president of a billion-dollar corporation faced his board of directors with a grim look on his face. "I'm going to put it squarely to you, J. D.," he said to the first vice president. "Have you been taking out my secretary after hours?"

"Gosh, chief," blushed J. D. "I didn't think you'd mind." In turn, other executives admitted that they too had not been immune to the charms of the prexy's secretary.

The newest and youngest board member was made of sterner stuff. "I'm happy to say," he announced, "that I've had no extracurricular contact with the young lady in question."

"You're just the man we're looking for!" boomed the president. "Go right outside and fire her!"

The government inspector asked

a Kentucky farmer, "Having any trouble this summer with insects in your corn?"

"Sure, have," said the farmer, "but we just fish 'em out and drink it anyhow."

U. S. Tourists Complicate Selection Of Site For Big Four Conference

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Secretary Dulles is having a terrible time trying to decide where to hold the Big-Four Conference. The trouble is—American tourists.

As a result, Dulles has been unable to find any neutral city which can squeeze in the some 500 Russian, American, British and French delegates who would attend the meeting. He's ruled out Geneva because President Eisenhower regards it as a city where the West agreed to give up half of Indo-China to the Communists. He's also turned down Russia's proposal of Vienna; and the British suggestion of Lugano, Switzerland, because there aren't enough hotels.

It now looks like Ike would have to go to Stockholm to talk with Marshal Bulganin. But even this is not certain because the Swedish government says the conference would completely disrupt its tourist season though it might be able to persuade enough Swedes to give up their private homes to accommodate the Big-Four delegates.

Democrats' Big Headache

Biggest headache of the Democrats both in Congress and the nation isn't being advertised and won't be. He is a Congressman from North Carolina, quiet, courteous, courtly, who is sitting directly in the path of new schoolhouses for several million youngsters and in the path of higher minimum wages for several million underpaid workers.

Mr. Graham Barden, the gentleman in question, does this through two simple expedients.

EXPEDIENT NO. 1—is the time-honored rule of seniority which gives him the right to sit as chair-short political biography, going back to the Senate Legislature and the county judships.

"Hell," he says, "every damned one of 'em's an old pro. They've been twenty-five years in Congress, on the average. You wouldn't expect them to get all flustered up about nothing, would you?"

"No Slipperies, Trickeries"

Getting controversial issues thoroughly settled in committee before they ever reach the floor, and before anyone has a chance to get all flustered up about nothing is the most important part of the Johnson recipe for running the Senate. For the rest, the recipe calls for a large, efficient, experienced staff, capable of finding out how each Senator will vote almost before he knows himself, and a thorough knowledge of the complicated rules of the Senate. "No slipperies or trickeries," says Johnson, "but you've got to know the rules."

Finally, the recipe calls for something intangible, a special sort of instinct. "You haven't got any business being in my profession," Johnson says, "if you can't smell things coming."

Those who have watched him in action agree that Johnson can certainly smell things coming—especially trouble. His critics say, indeed, that Johnson is a great deal better at making the Senate function smoothly and without unnecessary rows, than in making issues which will help the Democrats win back the White House in 1956.

Johnson himself firmly believes that a well run Congress and a united party are the best possible assets for next year's Democratic presidential candidate, whoever he may be. At any rate, Johnson is the kind of man the American system has always had to have—a man who makes the system work.

Anyone Under 15 Should Receive Polio Vaccine Shot

The dosage undoubtedly will undergo changes from time to time. As of now, two injections are given followed by a booster "shot" in seven to ten months. Dr. Salk found that a single injection increased markedly the antibodies in the circulating blood, and a second "shot" two weeks later caused a further rise.

But more antibodies did not form after a third injection soon thereafter so he concluded that the antibody manufacturing system was doing as much as it could.

When Dr. Salk allowed at least seven months to elapse before giving the third injection, the number of antibodies rose tremendously. Just as many were present as usually are found in a person who has had an attack of polio that conferred everlasting immunity. He considers it possible that this third booster dose may be all that is needed to protect for life.

The Francis report stated that reactions occurred but children who received the vaccine had no more than those who received the inert placebo. This demonstrates that some reactions are psychological or coincidental. Whenever a large group of children is vaccinated, a few are always coming down with scarlet fever or sore throat but the protective "shot" is blamed.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis selected first and second graders because the incidence of polio is greatest in this age bracket. It is a shade less so among third and fourth graders, preschoolers, and the kindergarten set.

In my opinion, anyone under 15, including babies, ought to receive the vaccine. The granddaughter of one of my colleagues is paralyzed as a result of polio contracted at six months of age. Pregnant women also should be given the protective vaccine.

TOMORROW: Psoriasis remains challenging.

HOUSING

V. T. writes: Is a wood house more healthful than one of stone or brick?

REPLY

No. In some parts of the country one material has advantages over another, but I doubt if health enters the picture.

VEIN CLOT

S. L. writes: Can phlebitis develop in an arm?

REPLY

Yes. Vein inflammation is more common in the legs, but I have seen phlebitis in almost every surface vein of the body.

MILD EPILEPSY

Mrs. W. writes: Do convulsions occur in petit mal?

REPLY

Not as a rule. The sufferer usually stops what he is doing and stares into space. Occasionally the head and extremities move as though a convulsion were coming on. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet describing the different types of epilepsy.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

man of the Labor and Education Committee whether he is qualified to pass on its problems or not.

EXPEDIENT NO. 2—is Barden's system of holding hearings. He has been holding hearings and hearings and more hearings on school construction. His committee held hearings last year under the Republicans. Seven different national groups have studied and held hearings.

The congress already knows all about school construction. Nevertheless, Congressman Barden continues to hold hearings.

This does two things. First it delays the school-construction bill. Second it delays the minimum-wage bill.

Congressman Barden is bitterly opposed to both. He is too smart to say this publicly, but he is.

A former schoolteacher, Barden once fought for federal aid to education and incurred the wrath of Cardinal Spellman for so doing. Today the issue of parochial schools is not involved. But school desegregation is involved and Barden doesn't like the Supreme Court's ruling for desegregation.

Republicans Laugh

Congressman Barden is also opposed to higher minimum wages because, first, a low minimum wage brings more factories from the North to the South; second, because he comes from a farm area which doesn't go for high wages.

Most significant factor about Barden's opposition is that the Republicans are quietly helping him—and getting a big laugh out of it. For their secret help to Barden puts all the blame on the Democrats, and may even alienate part of the labor support hitherto steadfast behind the Democrats.

The Republicans could easily swing two voters over to the Democrats to outvote Barden, thus getting action on the education bill and clearing the way for the minimum-wage bill. But they won't do it.

There are 17 Democrats on Barden's Labor and Education Committee of whom 15 are eager to push through school and minimum-wage bills. Only two Democrats, Barden and Landrum of Georgia, are opposed.

On the Republican side are 13 members, of whom many are anti-labor, such as Wint Smith of Kansas, Velde of Illinois, Hoffman of Michigan, and Gwynn of New York. But there are two good Eisenhower Republicans, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Wainwright of New York, who could turn the entire committee around overnight.

But they don't. They vote with the reactionaries—and for a very good political reason. They want to put all the blame on the Democrats for not passing two of the most important bills before Congress—school construction and minimum wages.

Just the other day, the Republicans caucused secretly and voted, under the leadership of Congressman Sam McConnell of Philadelphia, to stall for another two weeks. The stall means more school hearings.

Ike Says 90 Cents

Republicans officially have gone on record as being for a higher minimum wage and Eisenhower personally has fixed the figure at 90 cents instead of the current 75 cents. The Democrats favor a higher figure, and Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Democrat, having finished his subcommittee hearings, is recommending a minimum wage of about $1.05.

But with the entire question stalled in Barden's committee, it's doubtful that any legislation can be passed this year. Meanwhile labor delegations have been pouring into Washington, especially from the needle and textile trades, protesting that a man can't support a family on 75 cents an hour and that one segment of labor is getting poorer and more depressed.

Meanwhile labor leaders are getting sorer and sorer at Democratic leaders. They have been to see Paul Butler, Democratic National Chairman. They have been to see Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson. And they've been to see Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is supposed to control his own House of Representatives. Sam has been glum and uncommunicative.

Either he can't overrule the stubborn Congressman from New Bern, N. C., or doesn't want to.

Meanwhile, with both Rayburn and Johnson hell-bent to adjourn Congress early in July, and with the equally anxious to get rid of Congress by July, it's a safe prediction there'll be no school or minimum-wage bills passed this year.

Solution? Telephone

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The only solution now known for the parking nuisance is for people to stay at home and use the telephone!

In fact, the present increase in auto accidents and the lack of parking space will drive people to greater use of the telephone. Otherwise, congestion will so increase that we will travel "bumper to bumper." When one car stops, then all must stop.

The Merchant's Opportunity

Every storekeeper should at once install an extra telephone which should be used only for incoming calls. No one in the store, not even the boss, should be allowed to make calls on this extra phone. It should be reserved for "Customers' Calls Only." When customers complain of finding it "busy," then a second such phone should be installed.

Merchants should advertise more and solicit telephone orders more. Many customers now dread going downtown to shop on account of the parking problem and the general congestion. Hence, they stay at home and the merchants lose customers. Buying is being constantly postponed. Therefore, in their advertising, merchants should urge people to use the telephone, stating that special phones exist for incoming calls only.

Importance Of Habits

The present method of shopping has been the custom for centuries. It has become an instinctive habit which will change only slowly, but the sooner shopkeepers determine to change this habit, the better off all will be. Otherwise, our downtown retail sidewalks may become as deserted on weekdays as they are now on Sundays.

As they have a virtual monopoly, the telephone companies seem to be little interested in helping shopkeepers in their present dilemma. This criticism is said to apply especially to the big Bell companies. These are rich and ruled by self-satisfied bureaucracies. These telephone companies claim that they have not phones enough to take care of all the demands. This is nonsense. If they would be willing to buy more telephone equipment from outside manufacturers and develop more efficient installation crews, all demands could be filled.

Avoid Being Killed

My appeal for a greater use of the telephone is not solely to help businessmen keep their customers. The telephone can also help us to keep a life. Hubert L. Kerr has recently stated that while only two persons per 100,000 die from polio, yet, in the same ages, 50 young persons per 100,000 are being killed by automobiles. As these figures become recognized, I forecast that people will visit less by automobile and visit more by telephone.

People will remain home more and travel less. Travel by automobile — except for business — may now be near its peak. Even business calls will be made more by telephone and less by automobile. It takes time to change habits; but the present habit of making both personal and business calls by travel may become a thing of the past. All habits can be changed.

What About Television?

Television is already taking the place of the movies. When television gets over its "teen-age" period of "sowing wild oats" and gets settled down to decent programs, many more families will prefer TV to going out evenings to a movie. When television is hooked up with the telephone so we can see with whom we talk, then automobiles may be used only in emergencies. In fact, the time is coming when most of the better automobiles will carry telephones. These will be used not only in case of car trouble but also for business and social calls.

In short, I believe that the telephone industry is headed for a great future with tremendous growth ahead. This will come from an increase in population and from a much-increased use per capita, especially among the younger generation. The telephone can create greater sales, can save more time, and can protect us from unnecessary accidents and other losses. I also believe that telephone securities are among the safest of all securities which give a good income.

Wynn Masters Detroit, 4-0; Yankees Whip Orioles Twice

Tribe Pitcher Limits Tigers To One Bingle

Retires 16 Batters
In Order Following
Fred Hatfield's Hit

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT, May 22 (AP)—Early Wynn checked Cleveland's brief two-game losing streak with a powerful one-hitter today that gave the Indians a 4-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers before 35,743 in Briggs Stadium.

The only hit off the 35-year-old right-hander was a line single to right by Fred Hatfield in the fourth inning. After that safety, Wynn retired the last 16 batters in order to record his fourth triumph against one loss.

Wynn's timely performance followed two straight losses to the upstart Tigers, who knocked the Indians out of first place by dealing losses to Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia yesterday and Friday.

Cleveland collected 10 hits off three Tribe pitchers, with starter Ned Garver, who worked the first eight innings, getting the loss. It was his sixth against three victories.

Mayer picked up a check for $4,000.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, Tenn., tied for the runnerup spot with 27½. They split $2,200. Maxwell, former National Amateur Champion, fired a par 72 and Harper carded a 71.

In third place was Bob Rosburg of San Francisco with a 278 score. Mayer finished 17 strokes over par as he fired his second 67 round of the tourney. He shot a 34 over the front nine today and returned in 33 strokes over the back nine.

Elishian Is Final Driver To Qualify For "500" Race

33 To Vie May 30;
Four Cars "Bumped"

White Sox Divide
With Kansas City

By ALLEN DALE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 (INS)—Ed Elishian of Oakland, Calif., became the final driver to qualify today for the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway as four cars were "bumped" in closing trials.

"Bumping" is the word drivers apply to faster trials, which eliminate drivers with slower times.

Elishian accomplished the rare feat of winning an argument with American Automobile Association officials over his position on the track when the gun sounded ending trials and was allowed to try out 45 minutes after time had ended officially.

The Californian then qualified in 135.333 average miles per hour. Elishian's faster time knocked out the lowest man previously to qualify, Len Duncan of Philadelphia.

13 Drivers Qualify

Elishian was the 13th driver to place in the final day of trials and the 33rd in two weekends of qualifications.

Jack McGrath of Inglewood, Calif., had the fastest average trial time of the 33 drivers—a record 142.580 mph.

John Thompson of Springfield, Mass., another driver who qualified today, had the lowest average—134.113. Thompson bumped Ernie McCoy of Reading, Pa. McCoy, in turn, had bumped Russ Kall of Lombard, N.J., the 33rd driver to place in the tentative 33-car list.

Other drivers who qualified cars today included:

Don Freedman, Los Angeles; Al Keller, Los Angeles; Chuck Wyant, Springfield, Ill.; John Boyd, Fresno, Calif.; Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif.; Keith Andrews, Denver; Clark Templeton, Seattle.

Also, Roger Ward, Los Angeles; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, O.; Ray Crawford, Pasadena, Calif.; and Art Cross, de Laporte, Ind.

Duncan, who later was to be bumped by Elishian, earlier had bumped Johnny Kay of New Britain, Conn.

The trials were delayed two hours by rain and for a time officials feared that they would have to postpone final qualifications.

Two Alternates Named

Duncan and McCoy were named as alternates at the conclusion of today's trials.

The average speed of this year's qualifiers was a new record for the speedway—138.796 mph. This bettered last year's record of 138.632.

Only two former champions are in the 1955 field—Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., who won in 1953 and 1954, and is seeking an unprecedented third straight victory, and Parsons.

Results Of Past Junior Meets

1954—Allegheny 89, Cresaptown 66, Bruce 72, Fort Hill 48, Central 10, Beall 3.

1953—Fort Hill 51, Cresaptown 35, Allegheny 20, Beall 48.

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke loose with 15 hits today to grab a 10-6 decision over the Kansas City Athletics in the second game of a double-header after dropping the opener, 7-2.

Alex Kellner scored his fourth triumph against one defeat in the first game as he held the Sox to eight well-scattered hits. The A's made Kellner's task easy when they exploded for six runs in the second inning to stake the veteran southpaw to a 7-0 lead.

The Sox jumped to a 5-1 lead in the second game but couldn't hold it as the A's rallied with four runs in the third inning on five hits to send starter Mike Fournelle to the showers.

The Sox came back with a pair in the fourth inning on a single by Junior Stephens, a double by Johnny Groh, a walk and a two-run single by Clint Courtney.

Bonus baby Ron Jackson added another run on his second home run of the season in the fifth.

Elmer Valo and Vic Power hit homers for the A's in the nightcap.

Pirates Suffer Double Loss At Hands Of Giants

New York Cops Six
Straight, 5-2, 5-3

PITTSBURGH, May 22 (AP)—The New York Giants set down the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 today behind the six-hit pitching of Ruben Gomez then came from behind in the second game to win 5-3 in a contest cut short by rain at the end of eight innings.

The sweep gave the second-place Giants their fifth and sixth straight victories and a clean sweep of a four-game series with the Pirates who have lost 11 straight.

In chalking up his second victory compared to three defeats, Gomez fanned five and walked five.

The Pirates took a three-run lead in the second game on four singles and an intentional pass off starter John Antonelli.

But the Giants bounced back with a three-hit attack that netted two runs in the seventh inning then sewed up the victory in the eighth on De Mueller's three-run double.

Getting ready for summer? The Powers program of coordinated diet and exercise is just what you need.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Diet adjusts weight. Exercise adjusts contours. This, in the simplest terms, is the difference between diet and exercise, and the promise of both. Unless you are physically more active than most women past their teens are, you need both diet and exercise to prepare for the full enjoyment of summer. It's all too probable that you need to lose pounds acquired through the winter, and in the right places to make you a beauty in a bathing suit. That's why we've worked out a Powers laboratory tested program that combines the two to do the most good at this time of year. We call it "Summerizing Your Beauty," and it's outlined in my booklet by that name.

temperature climbs, and they should change to the best habits to maintain a feeling of well-being through the heat. The summerizing program includes special day-by-day menus to guide you. They are followed every day by exercises. These two together accomplish the slimming and re-proportioning needed, and much more. The diet is also aimed toward keeping hair and skin fresh and alive through the sunny season, and the exercises toward limbering and relaxing you at the same time. It all adds up to your feeling and looking wonderfully fit all summer long.

The "Summerizing Your Beauty"

booklet is yours for 10c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me at this newspaper. I'll be happy to send it to you at once.

North was a little over-ambitious when he earried South's

Five Are Hurt In Series Of Mishaps Here

Car Turns Over On Greene Street

Five persons were injured, one being hospitalized, in a series of accidents which occurred here yesterday.

To automobiles hit head-on early yesterday afternoon in the 500 block of Baltimore Avenue, sending three persons to Memorial Hospital where one of the victims was admitted for treatment.

Mrs. Bertha Wilt, 53, wife of Delbert Wilt, RD 2, city, was admitted to the hospital suffering a fractured left arm and a laceration of the forehead. Her condition last night was reported as "good" by attaches.

Treated at the hospital were Wilt, driver of one of the cars, who sustained a laceration of the forehead. James K. Koerner, 439 North Waverly Terrace, driver of the other car, was treated for a laceration of the forehead.

Cars Badly Damaged

Both cars were damaged considerably in the crash, police said. Koerner, according to police, was traveling west into Cumberland and his car went into a skid into the path of the auto driven by Wilt.

The mishap happened about 12:15 p. m. A reckless driving charge was placed against Koerner, according to Officers Ernest M. Powell and William Valentine, who investigated.

A rather spectacular auto accident occurred about 4:10 a. m. yesterday when a car went out of control on Greene Street and turned over injuring one person.

The driver, Mary Lou Kline, 26, also of Slanesville, apparently escaped injury in the early morning mishap. The accident, police said, occurred at the intersection of Greene and Lee streets.

Car Overtures

An auto was reported to have come out of Lee Street onto Greene and the Slanesville driver's car went out of control, skidded and turned over on its top causing heavy damage to the car and also to a porch at 216 Greene Street as well as to the wall of the Gurley Parking Lot.

The auto was traveling east on Greene Street, according to Officers E. P. Wilson and George Pfeiffer. A reckless driving count was placed against the driver.

A four-year-old boy was injured when he fell off a sliding board at Stitches Field. Treated at Memorial Hospital for a concussion of the brain and a contusion of the right forehead was David Deremer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deremer, 824 Shriver Avenue.

Attaches at the hospital said the child will be admitted to the hospital this morning for X-rays and observation.

Scout Leaders View Plan For Area Council

Representatives of Girl Scouts from six counties will be named to a study committee for the purpose of evaluating a proposal to organize all Girl Scout troops in these counties into a single council.

At a meeting held in the Girl Scout house on Greene Street, 52 adult leaders heard Miss Helen Sellers, a Girl Scout official, outline the program and explain that the Girl Scouts of the United States, at a national level, are urging council affiliation of all lone troops. The country has been divided into council areas and the area which embraces Cumberland is to include Hardy, Grant, Hampshire and Mineral counties in West Virginia and Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, Miss Sellers said.

The adult leaders took no formal action on the proposal but agreed to name a study committee and call an additional meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Taylor of Frostburg was named temporary chairman of the committee, with Mrs. George Miller, this city, temporary secretary.

The next meeting will be held in Frostburg on September 20.

KC Officer Congratulated

Charles B. Humelsine of Hagerstown, who was elected state deputy by delegates to the Maryland Council, Knights of Columbus annual convention here over the weekend, is shown (left above) being congratulated by John P. Bauernschub of Baltimore, retiring state deputy. Humelsine assumes office July 1. The 57th convention ended yesterday afternoon with a final session on the third floor of the home of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus. Next year's convention will be held in Ocean City sometime in May.

K. Of C. Elects C. B. Humelsine State Deputy

Bus Transportation Resolution Supported

Charles B. Humelsine, Hagerstown, was elected state deputy yesterday afternoon during a meeting of delegates to the 57th annual convention of Maryland Council, Knights of Columbus.

Presiding at the session held on the third floor of the home of Cumberland Council 586 was John P. Bauernschub of Baltimore, retiring state deputy.

Other state officers elected in the final session of the two-day meeting here include: Maurice J. Klein, Baltimore, secretary; Dr. John Cross, Leonardtown, treasurer; George Zeck, Baltimore, warden; and Leo Koepfle, Silver Spring, advocate.

The officers will assume duties July 1 and will be in office for one-year terms.

A local resident, Peter J. Carpenter, member of Cumberland Council and former grand knight, was unsuccessful in seeking the office of state deputy. Carpenter is past state treasurer and advocate.

During the session yesterday afternoon the delegates passed a resolution asking the Maryland Legislature to support a bill to provide bus transportation to all school children.

There are 41 councils in Maryland with a membership of over 11,000 men. Next year's convention is slated for Ocean City during the month of May.

Bauernschub opened the convention Saturday afternoon in the Cumberland Council chambers by giving an appraisal of the past year's program and by appointing committees.

The delegates were informed that the main important single feature of the program was the signing of Senate Bill 1 by Governor McKeldin.

This bill, presented to the Legislative Council by the Maryland Knights of Columbus, was introduced into the General Assembly by President of the Senate Louis L. Goldstein and was passed by both houses.

The measure would strengthen laws that govern motion picture censorship in Maryland, Bauernschub said.

Bauernschub also informed the convention that the General Assembly resolution backed by the Maryland K. of C., calling for interdenominational chapels in the two major mental hospitals had passed, but there were no funds allocated for carrying the plan through.

As for the public transportation of school children, it was pointed out that in Maryland children attending parochial schools must ride parish-supported buses or pay for their own transportation.

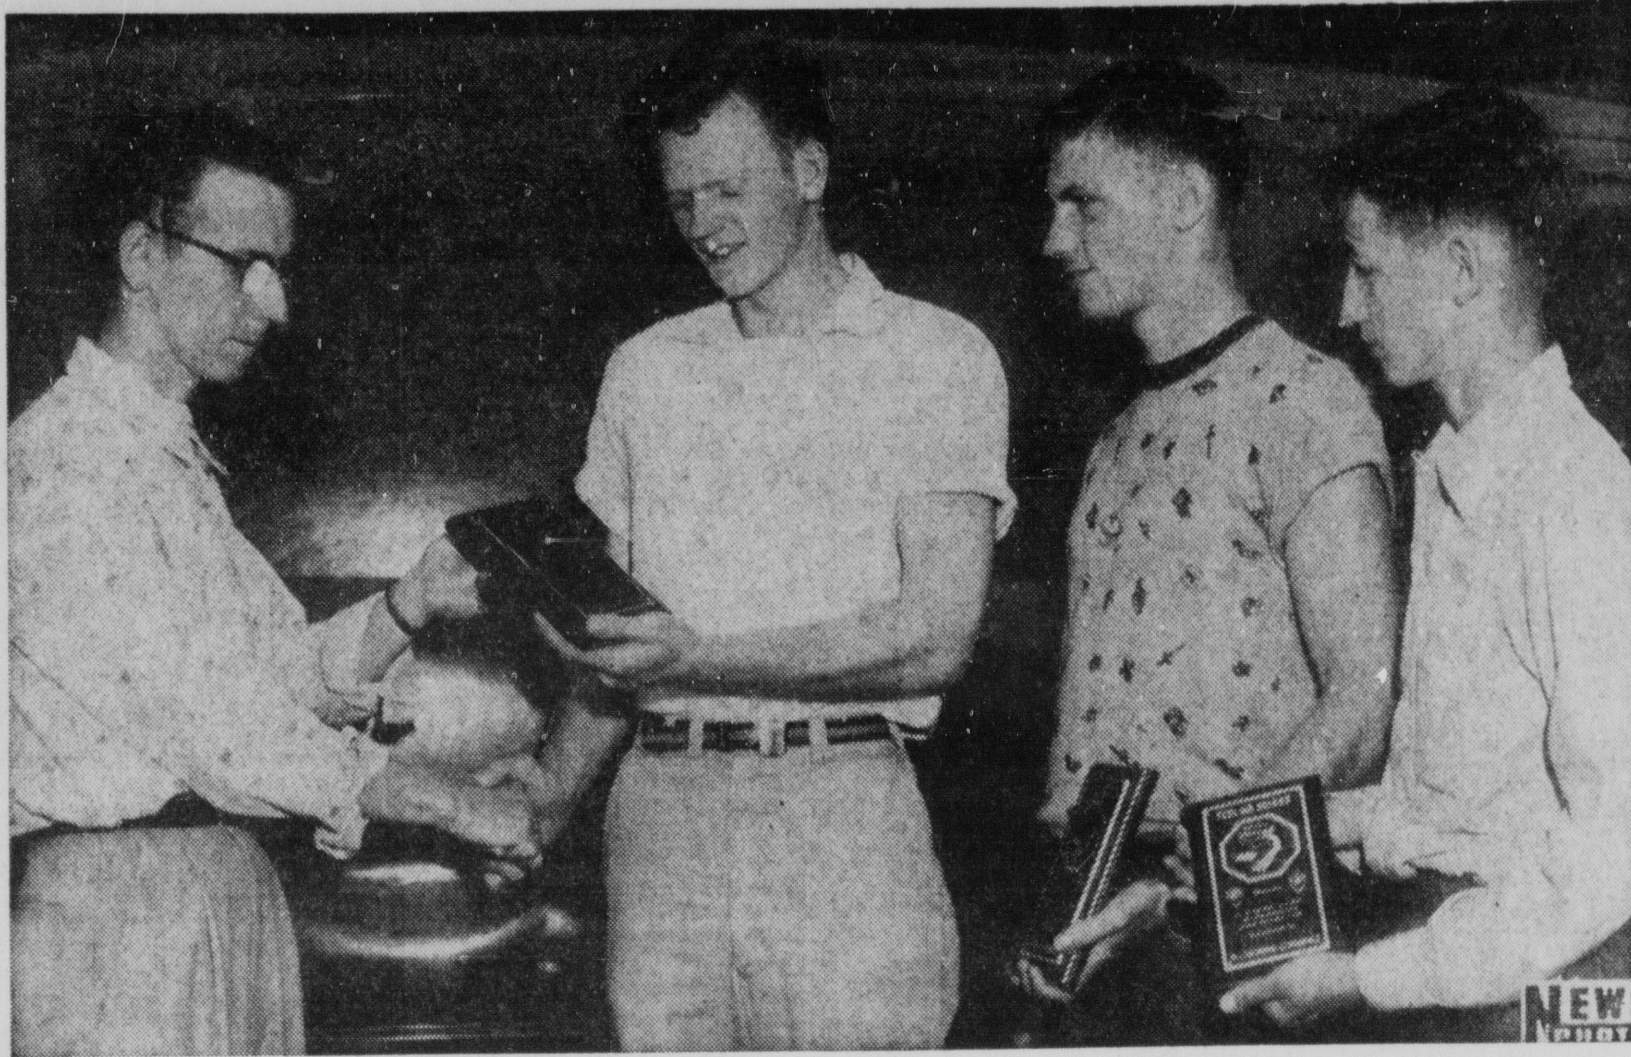

In a number of other states, the laws have been written so that all children regardless of which school they attend, receive public transportation to their classes.

Committees appointed were made up of the grand knights from all Maryland councils.

Committees and chairmen named yesterday afternoon were: Appreciation, Joseph P. Cantrell, Rock Creek Council 2797; audit, William R. Heffner, Cardinal Gibbons Court 2521, Baltimore; budget, Leo J. Denny, Santa Maria Council 1737, Baltimore; credentials, James J. Mullon, Maryland Council 370, Baltimore; resolutions, Charles A. Fisher, Westminster, state advocate, and by-laws, Bauernschub.

Saturday afternoon after the initial session, a nominating committee comprised of Bauernschub, all state officers, and all district deputies, representing all sections of the state, met to make nominations.

Convention Mass was celebrated yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Church with Rev. Gerard Spraker, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Lothian, Md., and state chaplain, as celebrant. The communion breakfast followed in St. Patrick's Social Center.

Road-E-O Winner Gets Award

Registration Of CD Workers Planned Here

A plan to register residents of Cumberland and Allegany County for the purpose of doing volunteer work in the event of an emergency due to enemy attack is being worked out by county Civil Defense authorities and members of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club.

William G. Barger, CD director for the county, said the first large-scale test of registering volunteers will be held June 6 from 5:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Baltimore Street.

The idea for registering residents was worked out by Mrs. Effie Parsons, chairman of the committee of the women's club in cooperation with CD authorities.

Wardens and auxiliary police of Cumberland will aid in encouraging volunteers to register. This phase will be headed by Walter Byer, assistant to Arthur Gibson, who is in charge of wardens of the city.

Such information as name, address and capabilities of an individual will be recorded and catalogued. Barger said all types of workers—including clerks, drivers, home nurses, and those familiar with first aid—are being sought for emergencies.

He added that such a registration is about the first such plan in Maryland and the county is "pioneering" in this aspect of CD work.

Plans are under way to train registrants to record information after an emergency and it is the aim of officials to get as many people as possible registered before an emergency.

Registration forms have been devised by the women's club, which has taken great interest in the project, Barger added.

Registration centers are planned for strategic points of Cumberland in the overall plan. Barger added that the June 6 registration is planned in conjunction with a nationwide CD exercise on June 15.

Today's Sermonette

O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him. Psalm 34:8

Today's sermonette is a digest of a sermon preached yesterday at Rawlings, Crestapton and Dawson Methodist churches by the pastor, Rev. Raymond M. Crowe. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Are We Living Our Religion?

By REV. RAYMOND M. CROWE

Our sermon today is a part of the installation service of the officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. These women, being very busy at home and at work, want to show to others through their work in the Woman's Society that religion can be and is a vital force and factor in our daily lives.

Christianity must be presented in an humble and in an understanding way. What is our honest estimate of our religion? It is not what we think or others think, but what we actually believe about it and how we live it.

Our Christian religion will live it when we most desperately need it. Has it helped you? Can you recommend your faith? Dr. J. H. Jowett, a writer and a minister, wrote to a fellow-minister: "We are preaching a great Gospel but we must remember that Jesus Christ is greater than anything that we have ever said about Him."

Jesus said: "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life." Our lives need to be in the advertising business for our Christ.

In order to live our religion we must be sure it is a religion of quality. As we read and study our Bible and the history of the Church, testimony after testimony is made about the quality of the Christian faith. It has withstood many obstacles. Always the spoken word for God has won praise to the listener.

St. Francis of Assisi, talking to a young monk, said: "It is no use to walk anywhere to preach unless we preach as we walk." The quality of our religious faith is told by our everyday relationship with each other. So powerful and magnetic is this faith that it attracts others.

The American Indians have a good saying: "I will never judge another until I have walked two weeks in his moccasins." What is Christianity doing for us and to us and through us is an important question.

One of the grandest texts for our religious living is what our church loyalty shows. What does our church mean to us? Are we willing workers as well as worshippers? Christ loves the Church and He gave Himself for the Church. Church loyalty offers to all of us a wonderful chance to speak very forcefully for Christ.

A student was torn by many religious doubts. He walked the street all night. In the morning he slipped quietly into the church. There he found his favorite professor worshipping God. His faith in God and new strength in his teacher were renewed. This young man later became a missionary.

Church loyalty is one of the most powerful ways of testifying to the worth of Christianity. When we are loyal to our church, we have accepted the privilege of "making a joyful noise unto the Lord."

In the story of the Samaritan woman the statement is made: "Come, see a man—is not this the Christ?" When we listen to and see real Christianity at work, we really see Jesus. When our religion becomes a part of our daily lives we then have a story to tell to everyone.

Lonaconing Man Succumbs Of Gunshot Wound

Robert G. Hershberger Had Been In Ill Health

A 54-year-old Lonaconing man, who had been in ill health and despondent died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound yesterday morning in the bedroom of his home the Charleston section of the town.

The victim, Robert Gerstell Hershberger, according to police, shot himself in the left chest with a single-barrel 12-gauge shotgun. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, termed the death a suicide. The shooting occurred about 10:55 a. m.

Trooper Harry Bosley of the Maryland State Police said the victim had been walking around outside his house and after entering the house, went to the bedroom.

He removed his right shoe, apparently placed the gun in his left side and pulled the trigger with his toe. His wife, Mrs. Rachael (Lease) Hershberger, who was working in the kitchen at the time, heard the shot and ran to a neighbor's house to call authorities.

Trooper Bosley said that he and Dr. George J. Richards, Lonaconing physician, were the first to enter the bedroom following the shooting.

Hershberger was found lying on the bed. The shotgun was on the floor near the bed. Police said Hershberger apparently had sat down on the edge of the bed just before he shot himself.

There was no note, police said. Hershberger, a former coal miner, had been in ill health and despondent, and had not worked for about eight years, police said.

The victim was a son of the late James and Adeline (Snyder) Hershberger. Surviving besides his wife are three sons, Robert, Eugene and James Hershberger, of Lonaconing; two daughters, Mrs. Emily Rainor, Lonaconing; Mrs. Edna Green, Baltimore.

Also surviving are seven brothers William Hershberger, Keyser; Daryl Hershberger, Phillips, W. Tri-Towns TV Under Study; Changes Seen

The Upper Potomac Television Company of Westernport has obtained the services of two Jerrold Electronics Corporation engineers to survey its system in the Tri-Towns area.

Homer Ferrell, president of the company, has announced the employment of Walter Szymanski, field service engineer from Philadelphia, and George Duty of the Jerrold Mid-Atlantic Corporation of Baltimore.

Both engineers have conferred with company officials and employees on a detailed survey of the system and the experts announced in their report that the Tri-Towns system compares most favorably with any they have inspected in the United States, and is much better than many in the East.

Certain spot radiations were recorded, Ferrell said, and the experts recommended to company officials certain changes that would correct any excessive radiation found, such as additional grounding and the removal of unshielded wires in the amplifier boxes.

Ferrell announced that the company will do as recommended and that it will be necessary at certain times to cut the signal from the cable for the purpose of making these changes. The company asked that cable subscribers excuse any program interruptions that may be necessary in the near future. It is estimated that it will take company employees about 20 days to make these changes.

The experts stated in their survey that the changing of the system from three channels to one of five channels is promising for the company and its subscribers. The company said that, while it is expected to be expensive, it is an improvement the company wants to make for the benefit of subscribers at no additional cost.

Five Are Hurt In Series Of Mishaps Here

Car Turns Over On Greene Street

Five persons were injured, one being hospitalized, in a series of accidents which occurred here yesterday.

To automobiles hit head-on early yesterday afternoon in the 500 block of Baltimore Avenue, sending three persons to Memorial Hospital where one of the victims was admitted for treatment.

Mrs. Bertha Wilt, 53, wife of Delbert Wilt, RD 2, city, was admitted to the hospital suffering a fractured left arm and a laceration of the forehead. Her condition last night was reported as "good" by attaches.

Treated at the hospital were Wilt, driver of one of the cars, who sustained a laceration of the forehead. James K. Koerner, 439 North Waverly Terrace, driver of the other car, was treated for a laceration of the forehead.

Cars Badly Damaged

Both cars were damaged considerably in the crash, police said. Koerner, according to police, was traveling west into Cumberland and his car went into a skid into the path of the auto driven by Wilt.

The mishap happened about 12:15 p. m. A reckless driving charge was placed against Koerner, according to Officers Ernest M. Powell and William Valentine, who investigated.

A rather spectacular auto accident occurred about 4:10 a. m. yesterday when a car went out of control on Greene Street and turned over injuring one person.

The driver, Mary Lou Kline, 26, also of Slanesville, apparently escaped injury in the early morning mishap. The accident, police said, occurred at the intersection of Greene and Lee streets.

Car Overtakes

An auto was reported to have come out of Lee Street onto Greene and the Slanesville driver's car went out of control, skidded and turned over on its top causing heavy damage to the car and also to a porch at 216 Greene Street as well as to the wall of the Gurley Parking Lot.

The auto was traveling east on Greene Street, according to Officers E. P. Wilson and George Pfeiffer. A reckless driving count was placed against the driver.

A four-year-old boy was injured when he fell off a sliding board at Stitches Field. Treated at Memorial Hospital for a concussion of the brain and a contusion of the right forehead was David Deremer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deremer, 824 Shriver Avenue.

Attaches at the hospital said the child will be admitted to the hospital this morning for X-rays and observation.

Scout Leaders View Plan For Area Council

Representatives of Girl Scouts from six counties will be named to a study committee for the purpose of evaluating a proposal to organize all Girl Scout troops in these counties into a single council.

At a meeting held in the Girl Scout house on Greene Street, 52 adult leaders heard Miss Helen Sellers, a Girl Scout official, outline the program and explain that the Girl Scouts of the United States, at a national level, are urging council affiliation of all lone troops.

The country has been divided into council areas, and the area which embraces Cumberland is to include Hardy, Grant, Hampshire and Mineral counties in West Virginia and Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, Miss Sellers said.

The adult leaders took no formal action on the proposal but agreed to name a study committee and call an additional meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Taylor of Frostburg was named temporary chairman of the committee, with Mrs. George Miller, this city, temporary secretary.

The next meeting will be held in Frostburg on September 20.

K. Of C. Elects C. B. Humelsine State Deputy

Bus Transportation Resolution Supported

Charles B. Humelsine, Hagerstown, was elected state deputy yesterday afternoon during a meeting of delegates to the 57th annual convention of Maryland Council, Knights of Columbus.

Presiding at the session held on the third floor of the home of Cumberland Council 586 was John P. Bauernschub of Baltimore, retiring state deputy.

Other state officers elected in the final session of the two-day meeting here include: Maurice J. Klein, Baltimore, secretary; Dr. John Cross, Leonardtown, treasurer; George Zeck, Baltimore, warden; and Leo Koepfle, Silver Spring advocate.

The officers will assume duties July 1 and will be in office for one-year terms.

A local resident, Peter J. Carpentri, member of Cumberland Council and former grand knight, was unsuccessful in seeking the office of state deputy. Carpentri is past state treasurer and advocate.

During the session yesterday afternoon the delegates passed a resolution asking the Maryland Legislature to support a bill to provide bus transportation to all school children.

There are 41 councils in Maryland with a membership of over 11,000 men. Next year's convention is slated for Ocean City during the month of May.

Bauernschub opened the convention Saturday afternoon in the Cumberland Council chambers by giving an appraisal of the past year's program and by appointing committees.

The delegates were informed that the main important single feature of the program was the signing of Senate Bill 1 by Governor McKeldin.

This bill, presented to the Legislative Council by the Maryland Knights of Columbus, was introduced into the General Assembly by President of the Senate Louis L. Goldstein and was passed by both houses.

The measure would strengthen laws that govern motion picture censorship in Maryland, Bauernschub said.

Bauernschub also informed the convention that the General Assembly resolution backed by the Maryland K. of C., calling for interdenominational chapels in the two major mental hospitals had passed, but there were no funds allocated for carrying the plan through.

As for the public transportation of school children, it was pointed out that in Maryland children attending parochial schools must ride parish-supported buses or pay for their own transportation.

In a number of other states, the laws have been written so that all children regardless of which school they attend, receive public transportation to their classes.

Committees appointed were made up of the grand knights from all Maryland councils.

Committees and chairmen named yesterday afternoon were: Appreciation, Joseph P. Cantrell, Rock Creek Council 2797; audit, William R. Heffner, Cardinal Gibbons Court 2521, Baltimore; budget, Leo J. Denny, Santa Maria Council 1737, Baltimore; credentials, James J. Mullon, Maryland Council 370, Baltimore; resolutions, Charles A. Fisher, Westminster, state advocate, and by-laws, Bauernschub.

Saturday afternoon after the initial session, a nominating committee comprised of Bauernschub, all state officers, and all district deputies, representing all sections of the state, met to make nominations.

Convention Mass was celebrated yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Church with Rev. Gerard Spraker, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Lothian, Md., and state chaplain, as celebrant. The communion breakfast followed in St. Patrick's Social Center.

Registration Of CD Workers Planned Here

A plan to register residents of Cumberland and Allegany County for the purpose of doing volunteer work in the event of an emergency due to enemy attack is being worked out by county Civil Defense authorities and members of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club.

William G. Barger, CD director for the county, said the first large-scale test of registering volunteers will be held June 6 from 5:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Baltimore Street.

The idea for registering residents was worked out by Mrs. Effie Parsons, chairman of the committee of the women's club in cooperation with CD authorities.

Wardens and auxiliary police of Cumberland will aid in encouraging volunteers to register. This phase will be headed by Walter Byer, assistant to Arthur Gibson, who is in charge of wardens of the city.

Such information as name, address and capabilities of an individual will be recorded and catalogued, Barger said all types of workers—including clerks, drivers, home nurses, and those familiar with first aid—are being sought for emergencies.

He added that such a registration is about the first such plan in Maryland and the county is "pioneering" in this aspect of CD work.

Plans are under way to train registrants to record information after an emergency and it is the aim of officials to get as many people as possible registered before an emergency.

Registration forms have been devised by the women's club, which has taken great interest in the project, Barger added.

Registration centers are planned for strategic points of Cumberland in the overall plan, Barger added that the June 6 registration is planned in conjunction with a nationwide CD exercise on June 15.

Today's Sermonette

O taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in him. Psalm 34:8

Today's sermonette is a digest of a sermon preached yesterday at Rawlings, Creapstown and Dawson Methodist churches by the pastor, Rev. Raymond M. Crowe. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Are We Living Our Religion?

By REV. RAYMOND M. CROWE

Our sermon today is a part of the installation service of the officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. These women, being very busy at home and at work, want to show to others through their work in the Woman's Society that religion can be and is a vital force and factor in our daily lives.

Christianity must be presented in an humble and in an understanding way. What is our honest estimate of our religion? It is not what we think or others think, but what we actually believe about it and how we live it.

Our Christian religion will help us when we most desperately need it. Has it helped you? Can you recommend your faith? Dr. J. H. Jowett, a writer and a minister, wrote to a fellow-minister: "We are preaching a great Gospel but we must remember that Jesus Christ is greater than anything that we have ever said about Him."

Jesus said: "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life." Our lives need to be in the advertising business of our Christ.

In order to live our religion we must be sure it is a religion of quality. As we read and study our Bible and the history of the Church, testimony after testimony is made about the quality of the Christian faith. It has withstood many obstacles. Always the spoken word for God has won praise to the listener. St. Francis of Assisi, talking to a young monk, said: "It is no use to walk anywhere to preach unless we preach as we walk." The quality of our religious faith is told by our everyday relationship with each other. So powerful and magnetic is this faith that it attracts others.

The American Indians have a good saying: "I will never judge another until I have walked two weeks in his moccasins." What is Christianity doing for us and to us and through us is an important question.

One of the grandest texts for our religious living is what our church loyalty shows. What does our church mean to us? Are we willing workers as well as worshippers? Christ loves the Church and He gave Himself for the Church. Church loyalty offers to all of us a wonderful chance to speak very forcefully for Christ.

A student was torn by many religious doubts. He walked the street all night. In the morning he slipped quietly into the church. There he found his favorite professor worshipping God. His faith in God and new strength in his teacher were renewed. This young man later became a missionary.

Church loyalty is one of the most powerful ways of testifying to the worth of Christianity. When we are loyal to our church, we have accepted the privilege of "making a joyful noise unto the Lord."

In the story of the Samaritan woman the statement is made: "Come, see a man—is not this the Christ?" When we listen to and see real Christianity at work, we really see Jesus. When our religion becomes a part of our daily lives we then have a story to tell to everyone.

Lonaconing Man Succumbs Of Gunshot Wound

Robert G. Hershberger Had Been In Ill Health

A 54-year-old Lonaconing man, who had been in ill health and despondent died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound yesterday morning in the bedroom of his home the Charlestown section of the town.

The victim, Robert Gerstell Hershberger, according to police, shot himself in the left chest with a single-barrel 12-gauge shotgun. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, termed the death a suicide. The shooting occurred about 10:55 a. m.

Trooper Harry Bosley of the Maryland State Police said the victim had been walking around outside his house and after entering the house, went to the bedroom.

He removed his right shoe, apparently placed the gun to his left side and pulled the trigger with his toe. His wife, Mrs. Rachael (Lease) Hershberger, who was working in the kitchen at the time, heard the shot and ran to a neighbor's house to call authorities.

Trooper Bosley said that he and Dr. George J. Richards, Lonaconing physician, were the first to enter the bedroom following the shooting.

Hershberger was found lying on the bed. The shotgun was on the floor near the bed. Police said Hershberger apparently had sat down on the edge of the bed just before he shot himself.

There was no note, police said, Hershberger, a former coal miner, had been in ill health and despondent, and had not worked for about eight years, police said.

The victim was a son of the late James and Adeline (Sydney) Hershberger. Surviving besides his wife are three sons, Robert, Eugene and James Hershberger, of Lonaconing; two daughters, Mrs. Emily Rainor, Lonaconing; Mrs. Edna Green, Baltimore.
